Off-site activities

Can’t get your group here to Fort Fisher? We can bring materials to you in the local area.

Classroom Presentations:
We have presentations that can be brought into the classroom covering the Wilmington Campaign, the Attacks on Fort Fisher, Blockade Runners and Fort Fisher during World War II and the Women’s Air-force Service Pilots.

Garrison Life and the School of the Soldier: Congratulations! You’ve just enlisted in the army! Now find out life on garrison duty for the soldiers on both sides. As a part of the garrison you’ll be expected to learn the manual of arms, how to march and your uniform. 30 to 60 minutes depending on class time, 3rd grade and up, maximum of 30 participants.

“Townball”: Learn about the game that was growing in popularity prior to the Civil War. Use the New York 1854, the Massachusetts 1857, or the NABBP 1857 rules and experience the origins of the game that became America’s pastime - Baseball. 30 minutes, 4th grade and up, maximum of 25 participants to play a game.

“Secret Codes and Ciphers”: Learn how soldiers and sailors though the ages sent messages disguised from the enemy. The program will focus on three historical periods stretching from Ancient Greece through the Civil War and ending at World War II. Samples of actual encrypted messages found in The Military Telegraph during the Civil War, Volume I (1882) and A Manual of Signals (1866) will be presented to illustrate how Civil War Soldiers encrypted their information. 45-60 minutes depending on class time minutes, 4th grade and up, maximum of 30 participants.

“The World War II Home Front”: What was life like in the lower Cape Fear during World War II? Learn about the role kids played in achieving victory through scrap drives and victory gardens. Find out about how propaganda through posters and cartoons were used to help keep everyone working together. 45-60 minutes depending on class time minutes, 4th grade and up, maximum of 30 participants.

Additional Teaching Resources
We hope to have a new “Teacher’s Education Packet” containing information on Fort Fisher, activities geared towards Elementary or Middle School students, and a suggested bibliography ready for mailing soon.

Further information can be found at http://civilwarexperience.ncdcr.gov/fisher/fisher.htm or on the Fort Fisher State Historic Site webpage (http://www.nchistoricsites.org/fisher/fisher.htm). Included on the website is detailed information on the first and second battles at Fort Fisher, maps of the fort and battles, the O’Sullivan images, and discussions on blockade running, Wilmington, Fort Fisher and WWII, and African American troops at Fort Fisher.
Site History

In the Civil War, the agricultural South depended on Europe for manufactured goods and war materials. To stop the importation of these items, President Abraham Lincoln declared a naval blockade of Confederate ports. Wilmington’s proximity to Bermuda and the Bahamas added to the rail connections to Virginia made it the lifeline of the Confederacy.

Nicknamed “the Gibraltar of America,” Fort Fisher’s massive earthen walls stretched almost a mile and a half and averaged 30 feet high. The fort also had 30 underground bombproofs and magazines. Under the protection of Fort Fisher’s 44 big guns, 4 field pieces, and 3 mortars, tens of millions of dollars’ worth of goods and war materiel came into the Confederacy.

After two attacks, Fort Fisher was finally captured in January 1865. The Confederacy’s main supply line was severed. Three months later, out of supplies and hope, the Confederacy surrendered and the Civil War ended. The fighting at Fort Fisher would be the largest operation undertaken by the US Army and Navy of the Civil War and wouldn’t be surpassed until June 6, 1944. It also included the largest naval bombardment in the world up to World War I!
