Tartan Day North Carolina at the Museum of History

RALEIGH, N.C. — The North Carolina Museum of History will host Tartan Day North Carolina: A Scottish Celebration for the Old North State on Friday, April 6, National Tartan Day. Organized by Celtic Force Enterprises, Tartan Day North Carolina is a daylong celebration of bagpipes, Highland dancing, genealogy discussions, demonstrations, Scottish food, and a few surprises—all to present some of the best of Scotland and tell the story of Scots in North Carolina.

“At Tartan Day NC, we will show you just how much fun you can have with kilts and bagpipes,” said Donovan Murray with Celtic Force Enterprises. “Join us and be Scottish for the day!”

This FREE, festive and educational event for all ages will run from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Programming will cover many Highland traditions, from Celtic music and dancing to how to wear a great kilt, and an Official Welcome at noon on Bicentennial Plaza, complete with bagpipers and dancers. For a full schedule of events, visit ncmuseumofhistory.org/tartan-day-nc. For information, call 336-499-9733.
