November Programs at the North Carolina Museum of History

Celebrating 200 Years of Supreme Court of North Carolina History and National American Indian Heritage Month

November 1, 2019 (RALEIGH, N.C.) — Did you know that North Carolina is home to eight state-recognized American Indian tribes? Join us in November for the 24th Annual American Indian Heritage Celebration, a FREE, FAMILY-FRIENDLY event at the NC Museum of History in Raleigh!

Read on for all our November events. Programs are FREE unless otherwise noted. Weekend parking is free.

Museum After Dark: Grown-Up Game Night

Friday, Nov. 1, 5:30–8 p.m.

Adults only, please.

Come hungry, to enjoy Cue Burger food truck, then take part in free activities in the museum lobby, Daniels Auditorium, and the Museum Shop. On Level 3, our new Toy Boom! exhibit will also be open for all visitors.

Grown-Up Film Screening: Toy Story

Friday, Nov. 1, 6:30 p.m.

(1995; MPAA rating: G-V; run time: 81 min.)

Adults only, please.

You've always wanted to see the original Toy Story for yourself, right? Well, here is your chance. This is the film that first brought life to many of the toys included in Toy Boom!—tour that exhibit before the screening.

Putt-Putt and Pilsners

Friday, Nov. 1, 6–7 p.m.

Celebrate our new toy exhibit and 65 years of putt-putt—a type of miniature golf that originated in Fayetteville—with a putt and a pint while getting to know other members during this special part of Museum After Dark.

Free for MOHA/museum members. Not a member? Show your love for fun and join at the door. For information, visit ncmoha.com, or call 919-814-7027.

Paderewski Festival

Saturday, Nov. 2–Sunday, Nov. 3, 3 p.m.

Performers this year are pianist and harpsichordist Tomasz Ritter (Saturday) and American musician Andrew J. Yang (Sunday).

Organized by the Annual Ignacy Jan Paderewski Festival of Raleigh.

For tickets and information, call 919-233-5200.

History Corner: History in Bits and Pieces*

Wednesday, Nov 6, 10–11 a.m.

Hear about North Carolina's past from unusual sources—cotton and fabric instead of words and books! In addition, help stitch a quilt, listen to a story, and make a miniature quilt square to take with you.

Ages 6–9 (may be accompanied by an adult). $5 per child; $3 for MOHA/museum members. To register, visit NCMOH-programs.com. For information, call 919-814-7046.

Note: A Saturday repeat of this program that was advertised earlier has been canceled.

History Hunters: SOS! Save Our Stuff*

Wednesday, Nov. 6, 11:15 a.m.–12:15 p.m.

Letters, clothes, photos—how do you protect the stuff that tells your family’s stories? Get some tips, and try your hand at restoring an “artifact.”

Ages 10–13. $5 per child; $3 for MOHA/museum members. To register, visit NCMOH-programs.com. For information, call 919-814-7046.

Note: A Saturday repeat of this program that was advertised earlier has been canceled.

LIVE! American Indians in North Carolina: Past and Present

Thursday, Nov. 7, 10:15–11:15 a.m.

With special guests, members of American Indian tribes, and site staff, we’ll investigate the 1,000-year-old Town Creek Indian Mound State Historic Site in Montgomery County. Who were the people who lived there? What were their lives like? Why did they leave the region, and where did they go?

Sponsored by Blue Cross and Blue Shield of North Carolina.

Grades K–12. Register for this free program at BeyondTheExhibits.com. For information, call 919-814-7028.

Quilting Demonstration: Durham Orange Quilters’ Guild

Thursday, Nov. 7, 10 a.m.–2 p.m.

Watch and learn as these quilters demonstrate hand-stitching techniques on our museum quilt.

Hands-on History: Stories in Stitches*

Saturday, Nov. 9, 1–3 p.m.

Can quilts talk? Drop in on this event for families and learn North Carolina stories through fabric and thread as you make a simple quilt craft of your own.

Music of the Carolinas: Charly Lowry

Sunday, Nov. 10, 3 p.m.

Lowry, lead vocalist of the group Dark Water Rising, also plays with an ensemble of musicians who combine their talents with oral traditions rooted in Native communities of Robeson and Hoke Counties.

Music of the Carolinas, presented with PineCone and MOHA/museum members, is supported by the North Carolina Arts Council, NCArts.org, a division of the state Department of Natural and Cultural Resources.

Free tickets for this concert are distributed while they last beginning at 2 p.m. Join MOHA before or after the concert—for half-price museum membership! In addition, enter our raffle for a prize from the Museum Shop (winner will be drawn after next month’s concert and need not be present).

Veterans Day Holiday

Monday, Nov. 11, 9 a.m.–5 p.m.

Commemorate the observance of Armistice Day. All galleries are open, including David Marshall “Carbine” Williams, the 1920s Drugstore, and the North Carolina Sports Hall of Fame. In addition, the Museum Shop will honor all active duty and retired military (with ID) by offering a 20 percent discount on Veterans Day.

Assistance with the SHOF gallery is provided by the North Carolina Sports Hall of Fame Inc.

History à la Carte: Art for a New Understanding

Wednesday, Nov. 13, noon–1 p.m.

Presenter: Carin Walsh, Museum Educator, Nasher Museum of Art at Duke University

Celebrate National American Indian Heritage Month by learning about this current exhibition at the Nasher Museum.

Bring your own lunch; some beverages provided. Register at NCMOH-programs.com to reserve a seat. For information, call 919-814-7032.

Exhibit Opening: Law and Justice: The Supreme Court of North Carolina, 1819–2019

Friday, Nov. 15, 9 a.m.

With artifacts, images, and text (and some case notes that will likely make you think), we celebrate 200 years of law and justice with this temporary exhibit that explores the history of the Supreme Court of North Carolina.

Presented in collaboration with the Supreme Court of North Carolina and the Smith Anderson law firm.

For a complete list of the numerous other sponsors and contributors, access the museum’s website at <https://www.ncmuseumofhistory.org/events/opening-reception-law-and-justice>.

24th Annual American Indian Heritage Celebration

Saturday, Nov. 23, 11 a.m.–4 p.m.

Have fun watching artists, dancers, and performers; participating in workshops and craft activities; and learning about North Carolina’s American Indian population—the largest east of the Mississippi River!

The event’s official hashtag is #AIHC2019.

This event is sponsored, in part, by the National Endowment for the Arts, which believes a great nation deserves great art—to find out more about how NEA grants impact individuals and communities, visit arts.gov; the City of Raleigh, based on recommendation of the Raleigh Arts Commission; United Arts Council of Raleigh and Wake County; Food Lion; MOHA, the Museum of History Associates; WellCare Health Plans Inc.; Locklear Roofing; Red Hat Inc.; Blue Cross and Blue Shield of North Carolina; Friends of Town Creek Indian Mound Inc.; Triangle Native American Society; Lumbee Guaranty Bank; and the Lumbee Tribe of North Carolina.

Come to the festival and join the museum today to get your MOHA membership for half-price. For information, visit NCMOH-programs.com or call 919-814-7039.
