The Office of Charter Schools began implementation of the Performance Framework beginning (OCS) with the 2014-2015 academic year. The Performance Framework is composed of three areas: Academic, Financial and Operational. The Operational Performance Framework includes areas of operations like compliance, education program, reporting, and governance.

Charter schools must follow North Carolina state and federal laws, State Board policy, and the charter agreement to provide a high-quality learning environment for all students. OCS will verify board compliance through analysis of critical governance documentation. In monitoring and evaluating for quality governance, OCS may look for evidences such as a strategic plan and board minutes and may attend board meetings. The central role of the charter school board is to responsibly ensure that the school meets the board’s vision and mission. To that end, the board must oversee and hold accountable the charter school leader or the third party organization it has contracted with to carry out these duties.
