Adjunct Professor of Art and Digital Studies

Davidson College
Departments: Art and Digital Studies
Employment Type: Temporary - Part-time
Academic Year: August 2020–May 2021

Davidson College invites applications for an Adjunct Professor of Art and Digital Studies. Areas of specialization might include photography, animation, video art, data art, physical computing, AR, VR, or a similar creative field.

This adjunct position is shared between the Art Department and Digital Studies Program. Art and Digital Studies at Davidson explore the contemporary technologies that shape daily life, focusing on critical making and digital culture. The successful applicant will teach three classes of ART 111 Introduction to Digital Art, one class during the fall semester and two in the spring.

Required Qualifications

MFA by August 1, 2020 is required. Comparable industry experience may be considered.

Artists must demonstrate a distinguished record of creative work and a commitment to undergraduate education. Preference will be given to artists with a broad understanding of contemporary trends in Digital and New Media Art, including its history, theory, and practice.

Special Instructions to Applicants

A complete application includes a letter of application, CV, artist statement, teaching philosophy, and a list of three or more references. In addition, submit a portfolio as a link to a professional website or as a pdf with 20 still images, title info and links to videos, if appropriate. Please email these documents to Joelle Dietrick at jodietrick@davidson.edu.

Review of applications will begin March 9, 2020.

Davidson is strongly committed to achieving excellence and cultural diversity and welcomes applications from women, members of minority groups, and others who would bring additional dimensions to the college’s mission. Consistently ranked among the nation's top liberal arts colleges, Davidson College is a highly selective, independent liberal arts college located in Davidson, North Carolina, close to the city of Charlotte. Davidson faculty enjoy a low student-faculty ratio, emphasis on and appreciation of excellence in teaching, and a collegial, respectful atmosphere that honors academic achievement and integrity.
