Upon written request from the client, his or her personal representative, including an attorney, may have access to review or obtain without charge, a copy of the information in his or her record. The client may permit the personal representative to have access to his or her entire record or may restrict access to certain portions of the record. Rules .0301 through .0305 of this Subchapter shall apply.

History Note: Authority G.S. 108A-80; 143B-153;
Eff. October 1, 1981;