MEMORANDUM

TO: Persons Requesting North Carolina Adult Day Care and Day Health Services Standards for Certification
FROM: Glenda Artis, Adult Day Care Consultant
SUBJECT: Certification of Adult Day Services

Thank you for your recent inquiry regarding opening an Adult Day Service program. Enclosed you will find the following:

- An Information Fact Sheet providing a step-by-step guide.
- A brief description of the difference between Adult Day Care Homes, Day Care Centers, Day Health Centers, and Combination Centers
- Information about the North Carolina Adult Day Services Association
- Information about the Child and Adult Care Food Program; and
- A listing of Adult Day Services currently certified in North Carolina
- A funding fact sheet
- A copy of the NC Adult Day Care and Adult Day Health Services Standards for Certification

Please be aware that in the past few years our office has seen several adult day programs closing due to financial difficulties. There has been no increase in the overall amount of funding available in the State Adult Day Care or Home and Community Care Block Grant funds in order to serve additional clients. In most cases, what money is available has been allocated to serve existing clients.

We strongly advise individuals and organizations to consider their ability to operate an adult day care program without State or Federal funding. Many individuals who can afford to pay for this service out-of-pocket are choosing to hire in-home help or enter an assisted living facility. Although there is a need for services to keep our elderly and disable citizens in their homes, there is unfortunately little funding to support this goal.

Consultation, as well as monitoring and initial preparation for certification of adult day care or day health care programs is done through the local county Department of Social Services. That person's name and telephone number are below:

If you have any additional questions of this office, please visit our website at <http://www.ncdhhs.gov/aging/> or contact me at (919) 855-3400.

Adult Day Services Information Fact Sheet

A Step-by-Step Guide

STEP ONE: Conduct a Needs Assessment

This fact-finding exercise is essential to determine if the need and resources are available to support an adult day service program in the area you have in mind. Your local library or Internet can direct you to some excellent resources on the steps to consider when developing a plan to conduct a needs assessment. As a part of your needs assessment, you will want to contact other day care programs in the vicinity, the local department of social services, local aging programs (such as those operating senior centers and meals on wheels services), churches, hospital discharge planners, and home care agencies. Keep in mind that in order for your business to succeed finding participants who are private-pay is crucial.

STEP TWO: Consider the Finances Involved

Consult your local library for tips on financing a small business, or go on line and look at resources on the web. For instance, the Small Business Association has an on line library (<http://www.sba.gov/library/pubs.html#fm-14>) that provides a useful small business management series.

If you are considering a for profit venture, it is important to realize that studies show that small business start-ups take three years before they turn a profit. Most successful non-profits operate under an umbrella organization that helps provide financial support to sustain the program. The North Carolina Adult Day Services Association estimates an average annual operating budget (excluding start-up costs) to be a minimum of $150,000 for a center serving between 20 and 25 participants. Start up costs will vary depending on the size of your program, but average between $80,000 to $150,000. The enclosed funding fact sheet for certified programs outlines different funding possibilities for adult day care, but none of these are guaranteed. Furthermore, studies conducted by the North Carolina Adult Day Care Association have revealed that the reimbursement amount of most of these funding sources is less than actual program costs.

STEP THREE: Review the Standards

The North Carolina Adult Day Care and Day Health Standards for Certification provides detailed information about the requirements necessary to open and operate your program. Once a location has been secured and furnished, a number of forms and materials are necessary for the initial certification package. A full listing of these is in the Standards, on Page 27-39. This list includes, but is not limited to, the following: program policies, organizational diagram, job descriptions, documentation showing planned expenditures and resources available to carry out the program of service for a 12 month period; a floor plan of the facility showing measurements, restrooms, and planned use of space. Building, fire, and sanitation inspection reports are also required, however, these inspections are to be completed no more than 30 days prior to the submission of the certification package. Once, you have the necessary information together, the Adult Day Care Coordinator at the local Department of Social Services reviews the information and completes either an Adult Day Care Certification Report or and Adult Day Care/Day Health Report. If during the study it appears that all standards can be met, the application will be completed and submitted to the Division of Aging and Adult Services. Following the State review of the certification package, a pre-certification visit is made by staff from the Division of Aging and Adult Services. If all Standards are met, the program is issued an annual certification and can begin operation.

ADULT DAY SERVICES - -

Day Care Homes, Day Health Homes, Day Care Centers, Day Health Centers, Combination Centers: What's the Difference?

Adult Day Care services delivered in North Carolina are certified by the North Carolina Division of Aging and Adult Services. As defined by law, all the services must include a variety of program activities, a nutritious meal and snacks, transportation and referral to and assistance in using appropriate community resources. Medical examinations are also required for all persons participating in any type of adult day service.

Reviewing a brief comparison of the choices of certification types will assist in selecting the appropriate setting for the delivery of adult day services. The comparisons that follow are only intended as a guide for persons interested in opening an adult day center in North Carolina. Although it is based on the North Carolina Adult Day Care and Day Health Standards for Certification, it is not comprehensive of those Standards. Refer to the Standards for more specific information.
