WORK FIRST STATE PLAN
Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF)

INTRODUCTION
North Carolina’s TANF program, called Work First, is based on the premise that parents have a responsibility to support themselves and their children. Through Work First, parents can get short-term training and other services to help them become employed and self-sufficient, but the responsibility is theirs, and most families have two years to move off Work First Family Assistance. Work First emphasizes three strategies:

1. Diversion: Keeping families off welfare by helping them cope with unexpected emergencies or setbacks.

   Under Work First, qualifying families can get a one-time payment equivalent to up to three months worth of cash Work First benefits, based on a needs assessment by the county worker, Medicaid, child care and Food Stamp benefits, if eligible, and other supportive services.

2. Work: Shortening the length of time that families are on Work First Family Assistance by making work mandatory and by limiting how long a family can receive cash assistance.

   To receive Work First Family Assistance benefits, parents must register with the First Stop Employment Assistance Program, sign a Mutual Responsibility Agreement (MRA) and, once they move into the work components of the program, they can continue to receive benefits for up to 24 months. In most cases, families who have reached the 24-month limit cannot receive Work First Family Assistance for three years.

3. Retention: Helping families to stay off public assistance by encouraging them to save and by helping to make sure they really are better off working than on welfare.

   Work First increased limits on savings and vehicles, and the state legislature raised income eligibility limits for subsidized child care to ease the burden on low-income, working families. To help families stay employed, counties are also providing services, such as transportation, to families whose income is at or below 200 percent of poverty.

Ultimately, North Carolina’s goal is to help all families move to self-sufficiency. Most will make it all the way; some, because of hardship or disability, will have a harder time.

North Carolina’s success thus far at helping families move from cash assistance to work has led to a broadened focus for the Work First Program. No longer is the focus just on helping those families who receive cash assistance move off the rolls. While we remain committed to continuing our assistance to those families, we have added the flexibility and program structure for counties to provide former Work First families with job retention and child and family enrichment services designed to help ensure families’ long-term success. Further, since child support is critical to ensuring families’ success, we have expanded the Work First Program to allow counties to provide work-related services to non-custodial parents of Work First children.

Further, ensuring the safety and well-being of children is of utmost concern. Toward that end, North Carolina has taken advantage of the opportunity offered by the TANF Block Grant to enhance our efforts in this area.
STATE WELFARE REFORM LEGISLATION

One provision of North Carolina’s law provides for TANF program development by local county governments. The law refers to counties as Standard or Electing. Standard Counties operate the State’s Work First Program while Electing Counties have additional flexibility in program design. See Appendix D for a summary of Electing Counties’ eligibility policies.

All counties, Standard and Electing, have maximum flexibility in designing their employment programs to meet local needs. However, counties when combined contain no more than 15.5% of the State’s Work First cases (at September 1 of each year), are permitted by State law to design their entire program, including eligibility criteria and benefit levels. The State’s and each Electing County’s eligibility criteria are described later in this document. (Throughout this plan, all references to “Electing Counties” refer to those counties that have been approved as Electing.)

The North Carolina law also requires partnerships between local departments of social services and local Employment Security Commission offices by implementing the First Stop Employment Assistance Program.

PROGRAM ADMINISTRATION

The N. C. Department of Health and Human Services is responsible for establishing, supervising, and monitoring the Work First Program. At present, all services and benefits are delivered locally by county departments of social services in each of North Carolina’s 100 counties, although Electing Counties may choose to designate an alternative service delivery agent.

Each county developed a local Work First block grant plan, including descriptions of strategies to achieve the measurable statewide outcome goals described in this plan. Development of county plans must involve a broad range of public, private, and nonprofit groups. See Appendix A for further discussion on county plan development.

WORK FIRST ELIGIBILITY CRITERIA (STANDARD COUNTIES UNLESS OTHERWISE NOTED)

Receipt of Work First Family Assistance is based on both non-financial and financial criteria, which are described in Appendix C. Cabarrus County, which is a Standard County, operates a program under State law. Their program criteria are described in Appendix E. Electing Counties’ criteria are described in Appendix D.

For the most part, the financial eligibility changes made by this plan are not more restrictive than those in effect in July 1996, and thus are extended to Medicaid.

The responsibilities of the recipient and the county are spelled out in a Mutual Responsibility Agreement that describes steps the family will take to become self-sufficient and support services the county will provide. (See Appendix B)

EMERGENCY ASSISTANCE (ALL COUNTIES)

Counties must use their Work First block grant funds to provide emergency assistance to families in accordance with their local plan. Counties must define the eligibility criteria including who is eligible and the types of emergencies that will be covered. This assistance is designed to assist with families’ sporadic emergency needs, such as a utility cut-off or an eviction notice. Emergency assistance is not designed specifically to help families move to self-sufficiency, although, use of this assistance could help a family’s progress.
Counties will comply with federal requirements. Emergency assistance does not trigger the 24 or 60-month time limit, nor will families receiving emergency assistance be required to participate in the work program. Also, families who have exhausted their 24 or 60-month time limit are eligible for Emergency Assistance, provided all other eligibility criteria are met. These families are not included in calculating the State’s participation rates.

Counties are allowed to define and describe in their plans local eligibility criteria that are no more liberal than the following guidelines:

- The family must have a child who lives with a relative as defined for Work First Family Assistance and meets the age limit for Work First Family Assistance.
- Total income must be at or below 200% of poverty.
- Family members must meet the same citizenship requirements as for Work First Family Assistance.

APPEALS PROCESS

For Standard Counties, the N. C. Department of Health and Human Services has set uniform standards for determining eligibility, providing benefits, and ensuring fair and equitable treatment. Applicants or recipients who wish to contest a decision adversely affecting their receipt of public assistance, or workers contending a breach of the non-displacement in work activity provision of federal law, may appeal in accordance with N.C.G.S. 108A-79. Families are informed of their right to appeal and are provided with copies of Work First policy upon request. Electing Counties, as required by State law, have established a local appeals process that substantially complies with the appeals process outlined in N.C.G.S. 108A-79. For Electing Counties, all appeals for Work First are heard locally, not by the State Division of Social Services.

WORK FIRST SERVICES

It is important that families receive the services needed to assist them in moving toward self-sufficiency. All counties have maximum flexibility in deciding how they utilize their block grants to provide services to enable families to become and remain self-sufficient. The flexibility available to county departments of social services makes it impossible to outline all of the services that may be provided. Services that are not specifically prohibited by federal law or regulation may be provided. To the extent Work First services are available, they may be provided to recipients of Work First Family Assistance (WFFA) at any time to support the activities in the Mutual Responsibility Agreement. Also, support and family enrichment services may be provided for families whose income does not exceed 200% of the federal poverty level, and work-related services may be provided to non-custodial parents of WFFA recipient children. Each county’s local plan describes how services will be provided.

Serving Non-Custodial Parents (Optional in All Counties)

Child support should be a primary income source for most Work First families and a way for former Work First families to remain off Work First Family Assistance. To enhance non-custodial parents’ ability to pay child support, North Carolina allows counties to provide work-related services for non-custodial parents of a minor child who is a WFFA recipient. The non-custodial parent’s family income must be at or below 200% of the federal poverty guideline. The non-custodial parent is not considered a member of the custodial parent or caretaker’s family. In addition to the ability to provide work-related services, Work First staffs are encouraged to work with their local Child Support Enforcement Office and judicial system to have support orders modified to require the non-custodial parent’s participation in employment activities.
Serving Low Income Families

All counties are to provide in their local plan for provision of a variety of services for families with income at or below 200% of the poverty level that have a child who meets the same requirements as for Work First Family Assistance.

Counties describe in their local block grant plans how they will provide such services and what types of services they will provide. Services may be varied, including but not limited to, transportation, child care, job retention bonuses, case management, follow-up, mentoring, after school learning programs, parenting programs, literacy programs, and post-employment skills training. Families who have exhausted their 24 or 60-month time limit are eligible for these services, provided all other eligibility criteria are met.

Child Care Services

Counties may provide child care services subsidized by their Work First Block Grant funds. To qualify, families must be eligible for Work First Family Assistance or for Work First Services as described in this plan. The child care services provided must comply with subsidized child care policies administered by Division of Child Development (DCD). All parents receiving child care subsidies have a choice of legally operating providers and information to help them evaluate their child care arrangement.

All parents who have countable income are required to help pay for the cost of child care in accordance with the fee schedules administered by DCD.

Transportation Services

The North Carolina Department of Transportation (NCDOT) and the North Carolina Department of Health and Human Services (NCDHHS) share a mutual interest in exploring new and innovative resources for employment transportation. The common goal is to move welfare recipients not only to work but also to self-sufficiency. Since April 1998, NCDOT has provided an annual allocation of $1 million across the state to support the employment transportation needs of former Work First recipients that are working and no longer eligible to receive cash assistance. The formula-based allocation entitled “Work First Transitional/Employment Transportation Assistance” is made available to each county based on population and welfare caseload size. Funds may be used for fuel, bus passes, vanpooling and carpooling efforts, volunteer reimbursement, driver wages/fringe benefits, taxi services, insurance, repairs, and maintenance. Although these funds are targeted towards former Work First recipients, they may also be used for other low-income individuals in the community with employment-related transportation needs who are not affiliated with Work First or other human service programs.

Counties are encouraged to develop local partnerships with other human services agencies, transit systems, businesses, workforce development agencies, faith community, civic organizations, etc. to develop and expand alternative transportation resources to meet the community’s transportation needs. Issues such as communication, coordination, trust, policies, marketing, funding resources and cost sharing are all part of the discussion process.

Many counties have developed car ownership programs through partnerships with other organizations. Vehicles donated from private citizens, businesses, and/or local governments are given to select Work First families. There are many different versions of car ownership programs in operation in North Carolina. Most programs require that the Work First recipient pay at least a portion of the costs associated with liability insurance, repairs, taxes, and license... and/or title fees. Some counties use Work First Block Grant Funds to purchase vehicles, make down payments and assist with regular car payments for Work First families.

Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services

North Carolina law requires all adult applicants and recipients of Work First Family Assistance to be screened for substance abuse. Further assessment is required if indicated by the screening.
Qualified Professional in Substance Abuse (QPSA) or other qualified staff from the N. C.
Division of Mental Health, Developmental Disabilities, and Substance Abuse Services completes a thorough assessment of the individual's situation, including a voluntary mental health screening. If appropriate, a substance abuse treatment plan is developed and a referral is made to the area mental health program for treatment. The QPSA serves as the care coordinator to track the adult's progress through treatment. The QPSA and the Work First case manager jointly develop a plan for the family to ensure success. If an adult refuses to be screened initially for substance abuse, the entire family is ineligible for Work First but is evaluated for Medicaid.

If, after it is determined that substance abuse treatment is required, the adult fails to comply with the treatment plan the adult is ineligible for cash assistance. The adult continues to be eligible for Medicaid, is included in the family, and continues to be considered a Work First recipient for purposes of the work requirement and time limits. The family’s payment is recalculated with the adult excluded from the needs, and the payment is made to a protective payee. The children in families where substance abuse has been identified are monitored for referral to substance abuse prevention and other behavioral health services. Participants in treatment programs are expected to combine treatment with other self-sufficiency skills and vocational training activities.

Fraud and Abuse

The Department of Health and Human Services enforces standards and procedures to detect and prevent fraud and abuse by recipients and employees of the program. An administrative hearing process enables county departments of social services to identify cases of intentional program violations. Individuals found to have committed an intentional program violation are disqualified from Work First Family Assistance for 12 months for the first offense, 24 months for the second offense, and permanently for the third. The cash benefit is reduced by the needs of the offender but the offender continues to be subject to time limits and work requirements. The overpayment is also recovered by repayment or payment reduction.

Out-of-Wedlock Births

Because out-of-wedlock births are so closely linked to poverty, reducing these births should improve the health of women and children and help reduce welfare dependency.

Circumstances contributing to out-of-wedlock births are complex. Strategies to reduce them must address a range of issues from access to family planning services to promoting abstinence and responsible behavior.

Local health and social services departments continue to work together to ensure that all recipients receive needed family planning services. Each county health and social services department has formulated a plan to reduce barriers and promote family planning service utilization. An indicator to determine the percent of out-of-wedlock births has been added to the Maternal and Child Health Accountability System to monitor health departments as they strive to meet this goal. This indicator is tracked on a county-by-county basis and is used in the evaluation of each health department's effectiveness; resulting in health departments adopting strategies to improve their county standing.
The Department gives high priority to its adolescent parenting and adolescent pregnancy prevention programs and continues to monitor prevention efforts, particularly those aimed at reducing teen pregnancy.

Teen Pregnancy Prevention Initiatives (TPPI), housed in the Division of Public Health, provides funding for local health departments, social services departments, school systems, and other community-based agencies to work with adolescents to prevent pregnancy among target populations. These agencies use “best practice models” in group settings. Techniques may include abstinence and life skills education, youth development, parent workshops, counseling and referral, community awareness efforts, and male involvement. Topics include decision making, entrepreneurial leadership, information about specific areas of concern such as sexual coercion, statutory rape laws, and/or service learning.

INDIAN TRIBES

The Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians, the only Indian tribe in North Carolina recognized by the U.S. Bureau of Indian Affairs, has elected to remain under the state Work First Family Assistance Program. The Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians will continue to operate a separate employment and training program. Therefore, North Carolina opts to exclude these Native Americans from our federal participation rate.

INDIVIDUAL DEVELOPMENT ACCOUNTS

Counties may establish IDA projects locally as described in their block grant plan. Counties’ IDA projects must comply with federal regulations and with Section 404 (h) of the Social Security Act.

CONFIDENTIALITY

North Carolina, in accordance with G.S. 108A-80 and applicable federal law, restricts the use and disclosure of information about people receiving assistance under Work First to safeguard the confidentiality of all applicants and recipients.

FAMILY VIOLENCE OPTION

North Carolina has adopted the Family Violence Option. The State has developed standards and procedures to notify all Work First applicants and recipients about domestic violence and the Option, and to identify applicants and recipients with a history of being a victim of domestic violence. These individuals are referred to counseling and supportive services (while maintaining their confidentiality) and may receive a temporary waiver from one or more Work First requirement if domestic violence is preventing them from meeting the requirement.

The Department may waive, with good cause, Work First requirements such as time limits, child support cooperation, and family cap provisions, in cases where compliance would make it more difficult for the recipient to escape domestic violence, or would unfairly penalize someone who is, or has been, a victim of domestic violence. The length of waivers is determined on a case-by-case basis but will not exceed six months at a time.

LOCAL DEMONSTRATIONS OR PILOT PROGRAMS

Counties may apply to design and operate demonstrations or pilot programs to investigate various ways of meeting the Work First Program purposes and goals. These demonstrations will likely be in areas in which the county lacks the authority to make specific program changes. Funding in addition to the county’s local block grant may or may not be provided. There may be instances, in which the State asks for proposals to address a specific topic. In other situations, counties may apply to the State to operate a pilot without an official request from the State.

TANF Eligible Families

In order to achieve the goals of Work First, North Carolina opts to take advantage of the flexibility allowed in the federal law and regulations. Toward that end, the Department defines several categories of eligible families. Eligible families include the following:

- Work First Cash Assistance and Benefit Diversion will be provided as follows:

  Standard Counties - families that meet the income and resource requirements outlined in Appendix C.

  Electing Counties - families who meet the income and resource requirements outlined in each county's local plan. See Appendix D for summaries.

- Services to prevent or delay pregnancies to unwed parents, teenage parents or other high-risk populations are provided without regard to family income.

- Pregnant women whose income is at or below 200% of poverty may receive support services.

- Non-custodial parents of Work First children where the non-custodial parent’s family income does not exceed 200% of the federal poverty guideline may receive work-related services.

- All other services, including, but not limited to: Job retention and advancement services, employment services, support services, and preventive family services (including child protective services and related child welfare activities), but not assistance, may be provided to families with incomes that do not exceed 200% of the federal poverty guideline.

- Limited follow-up and referral services can be provided to any former Work First recipient without regard to family income.

- In addition to serving the families described above, North Carolina provides services covered in North Carolina’s approved State Plan as authorized by Parts A and F of Title IV of the Social Security Act in September 1995. For a description of these services, see Appendix F.

- Child Protective Services and related Child Welfare Services may be provided without regard to family income.
USE OF FUNDS

Federal funds will be used in accordance with federal law and regulations.

These TANF funds will be used to meet the four purposes specified in the P.L. 104-193. Federal, State and county TANF funds will be invested in activities to support achievement of specified outcome measures. These activities include, but are not limited to: enhanced training for State and local staff, automation, employer incentives, family planning services, substance abuse treatment, child care, transportation, and other activities promoting self-sufficiency for families. In addition, federal TANF funds will be used for the services previously included in the AFDC-EA plan as specified in Appendix F.

Federal TANF funds may be spent as follows and in accordance with federal law and regulations:

- Cash assistance.
- Child care.
- Supportive services, including, but not limited to work-related expenses and transportation.
- Educational activities intended to increase self-sufficiency, job training, and work, excluding any expenditure for public education in the State except expenditures which involve the provision of services or assistance to a member of an eligible family which is not generally available to other people.
- Administrative costs (which may not exceed 15% of the total funds spent for purposes under Title I of the federal block grant).

  [Administration is defined as costs associated with office directors, policy, fiscal, budget, personnel, purchasing, legal, clerical support, and direct, indirect, and allocated costs in support of these positions. The costs of staff who provide case management, program supervisors, program clerical staff, and support costs of program staff are services costs rather than administrative costs. The staff time spent solely on determining financial eligibility, including evaluating assets, is counted as administration.]

- Case management services, including outreach and follow-up activities.
- Expansion of child support efforts, including fatherhood initiatives, training for eligible non-custodial parents. TANF funds or MOE will be used to fund a concentrated plan to increase the level of collections for eligible families.
- Federal funds may also be used to help meet cost-sharing requirements under the Job Access program under Section 3037 of the Transportation Equity Act for the 21st Century (P.L. 105-178).
- Automating the provisions of the law.
- Other uses that reasonably can be expected to enable families to care for children in their homes; that promote job preparation, work, and marriage; that prevent or reduce the incidence of out of wedlock pregnancies; and that encourage parents to marry and remain married.
- Any purpose for which the State was authorized to use funds received under Parts A and F of Title IV of the Social Security Act as they were in effect on September 30, 1995. This means that North Carolina will continue, as it has since 1995, to provide services (including child care) that are authorized under the federal block grant.
welfare services) to at-risk children as was approved in the Title IV-A State Plan as of September 30, 1995. A description of these services is located in Appendix F.

If federal TANF funds are insufficient to cover cash assistance costs in the event of economic downturns, other Federal, State, and county funds may be used to meet the costs of assisting needy families.

Counties are able to partially retain collections made on overpayments to recipients not due to agency error, including child care overpayments.

MAINTENANCE OF EFFORT

Under State law, both the counties and the State provide Maintenance of Effort funds. County spending is generally through the County Work First Block Grant. This Block Grant contains an allocation of Federal funds to be used for those services that meet the requirements for TANF funds. It also contains state and county funds that are used to meet the Maintenance of Effort requirements. Additional State funds for Maintenance of Effort are spent on such items as child care, State administrative costs and automation.

Maintenance of Effort funds may be used for the activities listed below.

- Work First Family Assistance.
- Child care.
- Supportive and preventive services, including, but not limited to child and family enrichment services, work-related expenses and transportation.
- Educational activities intended to increase self-sufficiency, job training, and work, excluding any expenditure for public education in the State except expenditures which involve the provision of services or assistance to a member of an eligible family which is not generally available to other people.
- Administrative costs (which may not exceed 15% of the total funds spent for purposes under Title I of the federal block grant).

[Administration is defined as costs associated with office directors, policy, fiscal, budget, personnel, purchasing, legal, clerical support, and direct, indirect, and allocated costs in support of these positions. The costs of staff who provide case management, program supervisors, program clerical staff, and support costs of program staff are services costs rather than administrative costs. The staff time spent solely on determining financial eligibility, including evaluating assets, is counted as administration.]

- Case management services, including outreach and follow-up activities.
- Services such as housing assistance or health care assistance that can help families meet their goals for self-sufficiency.
- Automating the provisions of the law.
- Other uses that reasonably can be expected to enable families to care for children in their homes; that promote job preparation, work, and marriage; that prevent or reduce the incidence of out of wedlock pregnancies; and that encourage parents to marry and remain married.
IMPLEMENTATION

We will phase in implementation based on resources, training needed, and automation necessary. A number of provisions will be implemented as soon as policy can be issued since these changes do not require automation or require only minimal training. Any changes requiring modifications to the existing Eligibility Information System (EIS), Food Stamp Information System (FSIS) Employment Programs Information System (EPIS), or Client Services Data Warehouse (CSDW) that support the Work First and Medicaid Programs will be delayed until the modifications can be implemented in the systems. Existing policies remain in effect until such time as the required automation changes can be made effective or changes not requiring automation can be put into place.
CERTIFICATIONS REQUIRED OF THE GOVERNOR

As Governor of the State of North Carolina, I hereby certify that during each fiscal year to which this state plan is applicable:

This program will be known as the Work First Program.

The provisions described in this State plan will be carried out in accordance with federal and State law.

The State will operate a Child Support Program in accordance with the State plan approved under Title IV-D of the Social Security Act.

The State will operate a foster care and adoption assistance program in accordance with the State plan approved under Title IV-E of the Social Security Act.

The state will take any actions that are necessary to ensure that children receiving assistance under Title IV-E of the Social Security Act are eligible for medical assistance under Title XIX of the Social Security Act.

The North Carolina Department of Health and Human Services is the agency responsible for supervising the program and administering program funds.

Local governments and private organizations have been consulted regarding the plan and design of welfare services in the state, and they have been given 45 days to submit comments on the plan and design of those services.

The State will provide each member of an Indian tribe, who is domiciled in the State and is not eligible for assistance under a tribal family assistance plan, with equitable access to assistance under the State program funded under Title IV-A of the Social Security Act.

The State has established and is enforcing standards and procedures to ensure against program fraud and abuse, including standards and procedures concerning nepotism, conflicts of interest among individuals responsible for the administration and supervision of the State program, kickbacks, and the use of political patronage.

The State has established, and is enforcing, standards and procedures to screen and identify individuals receiving assistance who have a history of domestic violence. While maintaining the confidentiality, such individuals are referred to counseling and supportive services, and, pursuant to a determination of good cause, program requirements (such as time limits for individuals receiving assistance, residency requirements, child support cooperation requirements, and family cap provisions), are waived in cases where compliance with such requirements would make it more difficult for them to escape domestic violence or would unfairly penalize them.

State of North Carolina
APPENDIX A

LOCAL BLOCK GRANT PLANS

Each Standard County must submit biennially to the Department of Health and Human Services for approval, a local block grant plan that describes its proposed Work First Employment Services Program, emergency assistance, and optional components, including the provision of Work First Services to low-income families, former WFFA recipients, and non-custodial parents of Work First children. Each Electing County must submit biennially to the Department of Health and Human Services a local block grant plan that describes its proposed Work First Employment Services, Eligibility Criteria, Emergency Assistance, and Benefit Diversion Programs, and optional components, including the provision of Work First Services to low-income families, former WFFA recipients, and non-custodial parents of Work First children.

The public must have an opportunity to review and comment on local block grant plans before they are submitted to the Department. The county board of commissioners must appoint a committee of individuals to identify the needs of the population to be served and to review and assist in developing the county block grant plan in response to the needs. Membership of the committee must include, but is not limited to, representatives of the county board of social services, the board of the area mental health authority, the local public health board, the local school systems, the business community, the board of county commissioners and community-based organizations that are representative of the population to be served. In addition, religious organizations, service recipients, and other non-profits with experience in serving the population should be included. The Department provides to all counties a model for use in developing a local plan.

The local block grant plan should include public and private resources that will help families move to self-sufficiency and should describe how services such as child care, transportation, housing, and skills training will be used. The plan must include the county’s priorities for serving families who need child care, based on the needs of the community and the availability of services and funding.

Following review by the local social services board and other parties, the county commissioners must approve the local block grant plan before it is submitted to the Department.

The Department has the responsibility to ensure that counties’ programs comply with Federal and State requirements and are consistent with the goals of the Work First Program.

Local plans for FFY’s 2008 and 2009 have been submitted and reviewed by a team composed of a wide variety of agencies and organizations.

All plans were reviewed for compliance with State and Federal law and the goals of the Work First Program. Counties received comments and/or feedback on innovative strategies, problem areas, and additional information requests.

See Appendix D for additional information on the Electing County planning process.
Statewide Work First Goals

The Department, in consultation with the county departments of social services and county boards of commissioners, has established acceptable levels of county performance in meeting Work First expectations. The local block grant plan will describe the goals and outline the county’s plan for meeting the goals.

The goals established below will reinforce North Carolina’s successful caseload reduction efforts. By promoting employment, job retention, diversion, and intensive work activities, these outcomes not only assure a continuing downward trend in the caseload, they also build self-sufficiency for families.

Measurement of county outcome and performance goals will take into account economic factors and conditions such as percent of children in poverty, unemployment rate, and transportation barriers.

Statewide Work First Goals include the following:

1. Employment. Self-sufficiency is realized primarily through employment. One of the measures of success for local Work First Programs will be the number of participants who enter paid employment while participating in the program.

2. Job Retention. Families who leave Work First for employment and continue to be employed 6 months after leaving the program increase their opportunity to progress toward self-sufficiency and avoid a return to dependency. This impacts a family’s overall well being in several ways. Research has shown that children in families with stable income do better academically than children from families with unstable income. This measure will be based on the number of responsible adults that leave Work First Family Assistance for employment who are still employed 6 following termination.

3. Meeting Federal Participation Rates. Active participation in employment services and activities will lead to full time employment. Counties must ensure that the required percentage of mandatory participants complete the required number of hours of countable work activities to meet the federal participation rates.

4. Providing Employment Services. Active participation in intensive employment services is necessary in order to ensure that families have the opportunity to succeed before the end of five years. One measure of success in Work First is the percentage of mandatory participants who are engaged in work activities. Counties are expected to engage participants early and continuously in employment services.

5. Staying Off Welfare. Efforts to reduce dependence on welfare, help adults find jobs, and increase self-sufficiency are undermined when families return to welfare. Families leaving Work First because of a job are tracked to determine if they return to cash assistance. The TANF block grant plan reflects the goal as a percentage of all cases closed because of employment that should remain off of assistance.
Work First is based on the premise that all parents have a responsibility to support themselves and their children. Under Work First, the Mutual Responsibility Agreement spells out in detail the obligations of parents or legal guardians in return for family assistance. All counties require families to enter into Agreements. Electing Counties may develop their own agreements to meet local needs (See Appendix D). All Standard Counties use the same Mutual Responsibility Agreement; however, counties may tailor it to meet local and family specific needs.

Mutual Responsibility Agreements (Standard Counties)

The first part of the Mutual Responsibility Agreement applies to all families and describes the parent or caretaker’s responsibilities. All Agreements must include the first four items and other items, as appropriate (unless there is good cause), to ensure that parents or caretakers:

- Look for work/register for First Stop, unless exempt
- Accept and keep any suitable job offered to them, unless good cause exists
- Conduct themselves appropriately on the job (not be fired from a job for misconduct)
- Make sure that their children attend school regularly
- Get their children immunized appropriately and attend regular medical check-ups
- Cooperate with child support enforcement
- Participate in financial management and life skills classes
- Participate in substance abuse screening, assessment, and treatment
- Participate in mental health treatment
- Attend family planning counseling
- Attend family violence counseling
- Participate in work activities
- Participate in rehabilitation services
- Live with a parent or other approved adult (required for parents under age 18).

A family is not eligible for Family Assistance unless the parent(s) or caretaker(s) signs the Mutual Responsibility Agreement.

The second part of the Mutual Responsibility Agreement is the parent’s plan to meet the work requirements. This part:

1. Establishes employment goals for the parent(s);
2. Describes a plan for participating in work or work-related activities; and
3. Describes the case management and supportive services that will be provided to help the family become self-sufficient.

A family whose parent refuses to sign this second part of the Agreement (if required) loses its benefits for at least one month. Benefits will not be restored until the parent signs this part.

First Stop Employment Assistance Program

The First Stop Employment Assistance Program represents a partnership between the Employment Security Commission and the Department of Health and Human Services. The Employment Security Commission is the presumptive primary deliverer of job placement services for the Work First Program.
All Work First adult applicants and recipients, unless exempt, are required to register for the First Stop Employment Assistance Program with the Employment Security Commission in the county in which they live. Unless the adult registers for First Stop, the family is not eligible for Work First. Exemptions from First Stop registration include:

- Adults receiving cash assistance for a child only;
- Adults who are disabled as demonstrated by receipt of Social Security, SSI or 100% VA disability, and
- Single custodial parents with a child under 12 months unless they are subject to the work requirement (lifetime 12 months of exemption).

Counties may use one of two options for the registration process. 1) Counties may accept the Work First application and explain to the adult that he must register with First Stop within 12 days or his application will be denied; or, 2) Counties may require the adult to register with First Stop before taking the Work First application (Medicaid application will still be taken in this situation).

Counties also may contract with the Employment Security Commission for additional services such as job search, job placement, and referrals to community service.

Work Responsibilities

Families are assessed for employability at or before application for Work First and always within three months of receiving assistance. Single parents of children less than 12 months of age are excluded from the participation rate calculation if they do not complete enough countable hours to be deemed engaged in work. This exclusion is for a cumulative total period of 12 months within the time the adult receives assistance.

In all counties, single parents with children under age six who demonstrate that necessary child care is not available are not sanctioned. (See Child Care Section immediately following for required definitions.)

Full-time participation is defined as completion of at least 35 hours per week of approved work activities. Participants must participate in the activities included in their MRA Plan of Action, based on their ability. While some MRA plans may not include 35 hours per week of activities, participants are expected to increase participation over time.

Optional items and information specific to North Carolina are discussed below.

1. Work Experience - USDA approved a simplified food stamp plan to count the value of a family’s food stamp benefit in calculating the maximum number of hours of work experience participation.

2. Community Service - North Carolina does not require community service employment within two months of receiving assistance.

3. Wage Supplementation - North Carolina counties may include wage supplementation as a work component in their local plan. This may include cashing-out food stamp benefits and the Work First Family Assistance payment. It should be used primarily for families in which the adult may be less job-ready and difficult to place without the subsidy.

For Standard Counties that choose to include wage supplementation as an option in their plan:

a) A wage supplementation program will consist of a contract between county departments... of social services (DSS) and employers. The contract will provide for DSS to make payments to employers using public assistance funds in order to subsidize wages the employer pays to employees who are eligible for public assistance. Contracts may not exceed 12 months.

b) The amount paid to the employer will be based on the amount of benefits for which the employee’s household would be eligible in the absence of the employment. The county DSS may or may not include the dollar amount of the food stamp allotment.

c) The amount of the supplement will be frozen for the length of the contract.

d) These job positions must comply with the Fair Labor Standards Act. Additionally, recipients must receive the same benefits (sick and personal leave, health coverage, workmen’s compensation, etc.) as similarly situated co-workers who are not participating in wage supplementation.

e) The DSS expects that the employer will agree to offer the participant a regular unsubsidized position at the end of the subsidy program, if the participant meets all expectations and presents no reason for dismissal.

f) The employer must maintain records to account for wage supplementation funds that are received and disbursed.

g) Wage supplementation positions are limited to unfilled positions and cannot displace current employees from jobs.

h) The WFFA supplementation amount will be the payment amount for which the family would have been eligible in the first month of the subsidized employment (disregarding the income from the subsidized employment). This amount will be the same for the duration of the contract.

i) If food stamp benefits are included in the subsidy amount, the amount will be frozen for the duration of the contract. The food stamp benefit amount will be increased to compensate for state and/or local food taxes. This cost will be borne by the county.

j) The portion of wages received by the participant that was subsidized by the county will not be counted as income for determining eligibility for any public assistance.

4. State Allowable Activities - Additional work activities that do not meet the federal definition are also allowed. A worker and the family will use the results of the employability assessment to create the most likely and timely path to self-sufficiency.

5. Post Secondary Education - Up to 20% of Work First recipients may be enrolled, at least part-time, in a post secondary education program. In Standard Counties, recipients who are enrolled at least part time and who maintain a 2.5 grade point average (or its equivalent) shall have their two-year time limit suspended for up to three years.

Funds may be used to contract with, or provide job placement vouchers to, public and private employment agencies. Funds may not be used to subsidize a job when a person has been laid off from the same (or substantially equivalent) job, or if an employer fired or laid-off a regular employee to fill the job with a subsidized Work First participant.

Individuals are not referred for, or placed on, a job where any regular employee has been laid off from the same job or an equivalent job; or an employer has terminated or otherwise displaced and employee or employees in order to hire a Work First participant. Employees who believe that they have been displaced solely so the employer may hire a Work First participant may file a grievance as described in the Work First Manual.

Work First participants have the same rights under federal, State, or local laws that are applicable to non-Work First employees in the same or similar situations.

Child Care Definitions

County departments of social services use the following guidelines to evaluate whether adequate child care is available for single parents with a child under age 6. At each occurrence of non-compliance with the work requirement for a single parent caring for a child under 6, the county department will document in the case record the reason for the parent’s non-compliance. If the parent claims he/she is unable to participate because needed child care is not available, the county department will evaluate each of the following criteria and document in the case record their findings. If the county finds that the parent’s claim is valid, the sanction for non-compliance is not applied.

Appropriate Child Care:

- Care in a regulated child care center or family child care home that has a license, or
- Care in a non-licensed child care arrangement that meets the requirements of North Carolina’s Subsidized Child Care Program.
- Child care options must have hours of operation that mesh with the work schedules of parents and meet any special needs of the individual children.

Reasonable Distance:

- In evaluating ‘reasonable distance,’ counties consider the total time it takes for parents to travel one-way from home to the child care provider then to work or work-related activity. Because of the differences in North Carolina’s geography and highway/road systems, county departments have maximum discretion to decide what is “reasonable” for individual families based on their resources (i.e., whether they have a vehicle in working order or families’ resources available for transporting the family) and local transportation considerations.
- As a guideline, counties should consider that it may not be reasonable to require families receiving Work First to travel more than 80 minutes one-way to work and child care. Eighty minutes is four times the average one-way commute time in North Carolina (not including stops at child care arrangements), as reported by the U. S. Census Bureau based on the 2000 decennial census. This does not preclude an exemption from the sanction based on a shorter commute if the county considers the commute an obstacle to children’s healthy development or the family’s self-sufficiency goals.

Unsuitability of Unlicensed Child Care:

The unsuitability of a non-licensed child care arrangement is determined on a case-by-case basis. A non-licensed child care provider may be considered “unsuitable” for a particular family if one of the following exists:

- The non-licensed child care arrangement does not meet the requirements of North Carolina’s Subsidized Child Care Program to receive subsidy payment.
- A parent does not want his/her child (ren) cared for by the non-licensed child care provider.

Affordable Child Care Arrangement:
When a child care subsidy is available to the family, the child care is considered affordable. However, there are some instances in which the subsidy payment is not sufficient to cover the provider’s charges. If the child care provider charges parents the difference in the subsidy payment rate and the private paying rate and the parent cannot afford to pay the difference, that care does not meet the definition of affordable.
APPENDIX C

STANDARD COUNTIES

Non-Financial Eligibility Rules

In addition to signing the Mutual Responsibility Agreement and work requirements, families must meet certain eligibility rules in order to receive Work First Family Assistance. The basic eligibility rules are described below.

1. Children must be age 17 or younger. Children age 18, if in high school and expected to graduate by their 19th birthday, can receive through the month they turn 19 or graduate from high school, whichever occurs first. (Emancipated minor parents are considered adults and treated as such for Work First.)

2. Children and adults who receive SSI are not included as recipients in the Work First Family Assistance case. If there is only one child for whom an application would be made and that child receives SSI, the parent may receive assistance with a payment for one person.

3. Parents, including biological, adoptive, or step parents, must be included with their child(ren) in the Work First Family Assistance case. All siblings and half siblings living together must also be included in the Work First Family Assistance case. If both biological parents and adoptive parents are living in the same residence with a child, the adoptive parents must apply and be included, but the biological parents may not. If the biological parent and individual with legal custody or guardianship reside in the home with the child, only the individual who has day-to-day care of the child may apply for and receive Work First Family Assistance for that child. If the biological parent is not included, child support must be pursued. The biological parent’s income will not be counted in this case.

4. Children who receive Foster Care and/or Adoption Assistance are not included as recipients.

5. Certain relatives, or a person with legal custody or legal guardianship, may apply for assistance for a child but may not be included in the payment. These cases are child-only cases.

The following relatives qualify to apply for a child: a blood or half blood relative or adoptive relative limited to: brother, sister, grandparent, great-grandparent, great-great-grandparent, uncle or aunt, great-uncle or aunt, great-great-uncle or aunt, nephew, niece, first cousin, and spouses of anyone listed above even after the marriage has been terminated by death or divorce. The spousal kinship rule does not include the spouses of step relatives.

6. An adult or child can not receive TANF Assistance in more than one case in North Carolina or any other state for the same month.

7. An individual can be the payee for one Work First Family Assistance case.

8. Illegal immigrants are not eligible to receive Work First. North Carolina elects to provide assistance to cover all optional non-citizen populations allowable under federal law.

9. A family cap on assistance is in effect. This means that a family’s Work First Family Assistance cash payment will not increase when a child is born 10 months after a month in which a family received cash assistance. There are some exceptions to the family cap rule: a child conceived as a result of verifiable rape, sexual assault, or incest; a child for whom parental custody has been legally transferred; a child no longer able to live with his parent due to the parent’s death, incapacity or disability, and the incarceration or institutionalization of a parent for at least three months.
10. Minor parents (under age 18), unless emancipated, must meet special requirements.

- They must stay in school to complete their high school education, or its equivalent. When a minor parent has completed high school or received a GED, or is suspended or expelled from school, the minor parent must participate in an appropriate educational, training, or work activity.
- They must live with a parent or in another adult supervised setting approved by the county director or his designee. Payments will be made to an adult as a substitute payee, and not to the minor parent.

11. There is a five-year lifetime limit on receipt of federal TANF assistance. This means that, unless exempt, a family is not eligible for Work First Family Assistance if it contains an adult who has received Work First Family Assistance and/or TANF assistance from another state for 60 cumulative months. The five-year lifetime time limit began in North Carolina January 1, 1997.

A family may request a hardship exemption from the 60-month time limit.

The County Board of Social Services, or their designee, will consider and decide whether an exemption will be granted based on guidelines established by the Department. The Board or designee must determine:

- That the Work First participant substantially complied with the Mutual Responsibility Agreement, including consideration of any good cause exceptions.
- Whether the participant is experiencing hardship as defined in the Work First Manual. These include but are not limited to: a family member has been battered or subject to extreme cruelty, severe illness of children or parents, or a combination of factors which together constitute a hardship.
- Whether the hardship condition is severe enough to prevent the parent from working on a regular basis.

Adults included in cases that have been granted hardship exemptions are expected to have an MRA Plan of Action in place that addresses each identified hardship criterion, and they are expected to work toward resolution of the problems as appropriate. Counties are expected to continue to provide necessary services to enable the family to work towards resolution of these issues. Exemptions can be granted for one to six months. At the end of the exemption period, the family may request another exemption.

Good cause considerations include, but are not limited to:

- Disability of the caretaker;
- Disability of a child or other family member requiring the caretaker to remain at home and provide care;
- Family crisis or change including, but not limited to, death of a spouse, parent, or child;
- Lack of necessary child care and;
- Other unique circumstances determined by the Board or its designee that prevented the participant from getting or keeping a job.

12. In addition to the five-year federal lifetime limit, families who are active in North Carolina’s Work First Employment Services are limited to 24 cumulative months of cash assistance.
unless an extension as described below is granted. Families may re-apply for Work First cash assistance after being off assistance for 36 months. All Work First cases (all counties) are reviewed no later than three months prior to the end of the 24-month time limit to ensure that time limits have been tracked correctly; ensure the family is informed about other services; provide an extension if the family qualifies; and review the family status and assist them in identifying resources and support the family needs to maintain employment and family stability.

Up to 20% of Work First recipients may be enrolled, at least part-time, in a post secondary education program. In Standard Counties, recipients who are enrolled at least part time and who maintain a 2.5 grade point average (or its equivalent) shall have their two-year time limit suspended for up to three years.

Families may request an extension of the 24 month time limit at the end of the 24 month period or anytime following termination, including any time within the 36 month period of ineligibility. An extension may be requested verbally or in writing.

The County Board of Social Services, or their designee, will consider and decide on whether an extension will be granted. The Boards or designees must determine:

- That the Work First participant substantially complied with the Mutual Responsibility Agreement, including consideration of any good cause exceptions;
- That the Work First participant, through no fault of his own, is unable to obtain or maintain employment that provides a basic level of subsistence. To determine this, the Board or designee will compare the family's net monthly income to the maximum Work First payment for the family size. If net monthly income is equal to the maximum Work First payment or greater, the family can not receive an extension.
- Whether the participant is experiencing extenuating circumstances.

If an extension is granted, the Board or designee must determine the length of the extension. Each extension must be a minimum of 1 month to a maximum of 6 months with no limit on the number of extensions (within the 60-month lifetime limit).

Good cause considerations include, but are not limited to:

- Disability of the caretaker;
- Disability of a child or other family member requiring the caretaker to remain at home and provide care;
- Family crisis or change including, but not limited to, death of a spouse, parent, or child;
- Lack of necessary child care; and
- Other unique circumstances determined by the Board or its designee that prevented the participant from getting or keeping a job.

13. All Work First applicants (i.e., every member of a case) must provide a social security number, or apply for a social security number if they do not have one. Unless an individual has a social security number or applies for one, that individual is not eligible for Work First.

14. Individuals who are temporarily absent from the home for fewer than 90 consecutive days may continue to be eligible for Work First. Individuals who are absent from the home for more than 90 consecutive days but fewer than 12 months may continue to be eligible for Work First if they have good cause for the absence. Good cause includes absences for medical treatment, substance abuse treatment, and health care. For children, good cause also includes absences for educational requirements.

15. An adult must report to the case manager when a child is expected to be absent from the home for 90 consecutive days or longer. The adult must report the child’s absence within five days of knowing the absence would exceed 90 consecutive days. Failure to report the absence within five days makes the adult ineligible for three months beginning the month after failing to make the report.

16. An individual who is convicted of misrepresenting his residence in order to receive Work First, Medicaid, SSI, or Food Stamp benefits in more than one state or more than one location in North Carolina is ineligible for Work First cash assistance for ten years beginning on the date of conviction.

17. Incarcerated or institutionalized individuals are not eligible for Work First Family Assistance.

18. A family must apply for Work First Family Assistance in the county of their residence. Work First cases will not be transferred from county to county (although the Medicaid portion of the case will be evaluated for transfer). The family must reapply for Work First Family Assistance in the new county.

19. Work First Family Assistance received solely because the timely notice (10 work day notice) prevents appropriate action to reduce or stop benefits, is not considered an overpayment and does not have to be repaid.

20. Individuals convicted of Class H or I controlled substance felony offenses in North Carolina may receive Work First Family Assistance or other services beginning six months after release from custody if there is no additional controlled substance felony offense during that time and the individual completes or continues appropriate substance abuse treatment as determined by the local mental health authority. If the individual was not confined after conviction, he may qualify six months after the date of conviction under the same conditions outlined above. Individuals receiving Work First under these conditions are required to undergo substance abuse treatment as a condition of eligibility.

21. Families must legally reside in the State to receive assistance. Families that have moved to North Carolina after receiving cash assistance in another state will not be treated differently from current residents.

22. Cash assistance overpayments are recovered from the family, as allowed under State law or rule. This includes fraud, intentional program violations, and inadvertent errors by the family.

23. For Work First Family Assistance cases, all changes required to be reported by the family, including changes in income, must be reported within 10 calendar days of the date the change becomes known. All changes must be processed by the county within 30 calendar days of the report.

24. The certification period for families with income at or below 200 percent of poverty may be for a period of up to twelve months. Once certified, these families’ eligibility does not need to be reviewed until the certification period ends.

25. All applicants and recipients for Work First Family Assistance must provide documentary evidence of citizenship and identity (refer to Work First Policy for acceptable documents).
Financial Rules

1. Resources that can be readily converted to cash will be counted toward a $3,000 asset limit. “Readily converted” means the asset can be converted to cash in 5 working days.

2. One vehicle per family unit adult is excluded. The equity value in other vehicles is counted without regard to the “readily converted” requirement.

3. To calculate the payment, all income of Work First recipients is counted, except the earnings of children, SSI and the income of SSI recipients, Foster Care Assistance, Adoption Assistance, and the Earned Income Tax Credit, unless an income type is excluded by other law or regulation.

4. Countable income of all family members included in the case is counted. Income of parents who are excluded from the case is counted as if they are included. The exception is that no income of SSI individuals is counted.

5. For unearned income, the actual amount received is the amount counted in calculation of the payment.

6. For earned income, percentages are subtracted from the total monthly gross income as follows:
   - 27.5% of gross earned income is excluded.
   - A job bonus is awarded to parents with new earnings. For up to six months that each adult recipient has new earnings (as described in the Work First Policy Manual), the income is disregarded in full as a job bonus. The 100% job bonus applies only to new earned income that begins after application for WFFA. The 100% job bonus is applied for employment that is expected to be at least 20 hours per week and expected to be permanent; 27.5% of gross earnings from other employment is excluded.
   - If an applicant is working less than 20 hours per week at the time of application 27.5% of his gross monthly earnings is excluded. When he subsequently increases his hours to over 20 per week in a job that is expected to be permanent, the 100% job bonus is applied for the first up to six months of his increased income as described in the Work First Policy Manual.
   - If an applicant is working 20 or more hours at the time of application only 27.5% of his gross monthly earnings is excluded.
   - After up to six months of the 100% job bonus (as described in the Work First Policy Manual), 27.5% of gross monthly earnings is excluded from consideration, for as long as the individual is a Work First cash recipient.

7. The Work First monthly payment is 50% of the difference between the total countable income and the need standard.
8. The need standard is based on the number of eligible family members:

- A family remains eligible as long as the result of the payment calculation is twenty-five dollars ($25.00) or more (payments will not be made for less than twenty-five dollars).
- For adults who would otherwise be required to be included in the payment but who are ineligible, income is counted as if they were included in the payment (except SSI).

For the month of application, Work First payments are prorated from the date of application with the date of application being day one. Otherwise, payments are made for the full month.

9. Proceeds from non-recurring lump sum payments are counted as a resource beginning the month after the month of receipt for ongoing cases. For pending applications, the non-recurring lump sum payment is counted as income in the month of receipt and as a resource beginning the month after the month or receipt.

10. When an adult Work First recipient or applicant is potentially eligible for other government benefits, such as Unemployment Insurance Benefits, the adult is required to apply for those benefits. If the adult fails to apply by the deadline established by the county or the adult refuses to apply, the family is not eligible for Work First.

11. Certain families, as defined in the Work First Manual, may be required to report income and other information to their county department. Failure to submit a timely report results in termination of Work First assistance. The reporting process will be defined in the Work First Manual.

Application Process

County departments of social services are responsible for developing a benefit package as quickly as possible to help families move toward self-sufficiency. As appropriate, counties should offer families other services to enable them to remain off cash assistance. Such services include Diversion Assistance, child support services, child care and job placement services.

The time limit for processing applications for Work First Family Assistance is 45 days. It is expected that most applications will be processed well within this time limit. In general, it is the applicant’s responsibility to provide all the information, including verifications, needed to determine eligibility. Applicants may request assistance in obtaining information. The agency’s obligation to assist the applicant is described in the Work First Policy Manual.

Applications may be denied within the 45 day processing period for any of the following reasons:

- The applicant refuses or fails to register for First Stop Employment Assistance within 12-10 days;
- The applicant refuses or fails to apply for unemployment benefits, when monetarily eligible, or refuses or fails to apply for other benefits, such as Social Security or veterans benefits, for which he/she may be eligible;

- The applicant fails to provide information needed to determine eligibility;
- The agency is unable to locate the applicant;
- The applicant refuses or fails to apply for a required family member;
- The applicant refuses or fails to sign a Mutual Responsibility Agreement (either Core Requirements or Plan of Action, if required);
- The applicant fails, without good cause, to keep an appointment and has not contacted the agency concerning his application;
- Ineligibility has been verified including situations in which the applicant’s statement results in ineligibility;
- Failure to provide documentary evidence of citizenship and identity for all applicants. If good cause exists, the application may pend in accordance with Work First policy.

For any action or verification of information required of applicants, county departments will not deny an application without giving the applicant a written request for the action or verification, specifying a deadline that allows at least 12 calendar days in which to meet the requirement. Counties will not deny applications for the above reasons if good cause exists. Good cause is defined as:

- A significant family crisis or change including, but not limited to, the death of a spouse, parent, or child;
- Illness of the caretaker or child, including participation in substance abuse treatment or attendance at a medical appointment;
- Civil leave, including jury duty, or a required court appearance;
- Lack of child care for parent and/or a minor parent in school, training, or other work activity;
- Any other reason determined by the county director or his or her designee.

An application for Work First Family Assistance is also an application for Medicaid. Any time a Work First Family Assistance application is denied, the county department will evaluate whether the Medicaid portion of the application will need to remain open for processing according to Medicaid application guidelines. An application for Work First is valid for a 45 day period. If the application is denied before the 45th day, eligibility for Work First assistance can be established at any time within the 45 day period without requiring a new interview and Assessment/Workbook. This is dependent on the county worker having all information and documentation required to make the eligibility determination with the 45 day time frame.

Eligibility Reviews

Frequent contact with Work First families is critical in ensuring their success at moving to employment. Counties are strongly encouraged to review a family’s progress on the terms of the Mutual Responsibility Agreement at least every three months. Families that do not participate in or allow the county to complete the periodic review will lose their Work First Family Assistance payment for at least one month. The family may reapply for Work First but eligibility can begin no earlier than the first of the month following the month of ineligibility. A face-to-face interview must be conducted and eligibility redetermined at a minimum every 12 months.

Child-Only Cases

County departments are encouraged to re-evaluate how they work with child-only cases. Children in child-only cases are more likely to be “known” to the child welfare system. Often the child is with a relative rather than in the foster care system. Because child safety is one of our primary concerns in North Carolina, a comprehensive study is being conducted and results will be evaluated to determine appropriate services needed for child-only cases. In terms of eligibility, child-only cases must be reviewed at least every 12 months. However, counties should evaluate whether more frequent contact is desirable for individual families. In child-only cases where the caretaker fails to comply with the Mutual Responsibility Agreement, the county will carefully evaluate the provision with which the caretaker is out of compliance i.e., failure to have children appropriately immunized or failure to ensure children stay in school. If the caretaker is failing to provide appropriate care for the child, an evaluation of the appropriateness of the living arrangement is in order. The purpose of the evaluation is to help determine if there are additional services needed by the caretaker to ensure compliance in the future. The goal is to keep the child in a safe and stable environment.

Benefit Diversion

Under certain circumstances, a one-time, short-term benefit package is more appropriate in meeting the needs of Work First Family Assistance applicants than becoming a Work First recipient. Benefit Diversion may be provided when families are in need of short-term assistance to enable them to get or keep a job or access other financial assistance that will help meet their needs.

- Families that receive Benefit Diversion do not have to repay the benefit amount received.
- Benefit Diversion can be received only once in a 12-month period and does not trigger the two-year Work First time limit or the five-year federal lifetime limit on benefits.
- Recipients of Benefit Diversion are not required to participate in the Work First employment program.
- These families are not considered Work First participants, and are not considered in calculating the State’s participation rate.
- Families who have exhausted their 24 or 60-month time limit are eligible for Benefit Diversion, provided all other eligibility criteria are met.

In these circumstances, Benefit Diversion may provide:

1. A one-time, lump sum payment not to exceed three times the maximum Work First monthly payment for the family size. (The payment is not income-based, but is need-based.);
2. Medicaid, and Food Stamps if eligible, for the months in the Benefit Diversion period;
3. Child care, if eligible and;
4. Referrals to child support and other potential resources.

In order to be eligible for Benefit Diversion, families must meet the following eligibility requirements that apply to Work First Family Assistance:
1. Who may apply and be included in the family unit;
2. Income guidelines;
3. Resource limit;
4. Minor parent rules;
5. State/county residence;
6. Age rule for children;
7. Rule to have or apply for a Social Security Number;
8. Citizenship/immigrant status and Identity;

No other Work First Family Assistance eligibility requirements apply to Benefit Diversion cases.

Medicaid

Work First eligibility criteria impact eligibility for Medicaid. Therefore, if any of the eligibility criteria described in this plan result in a practical de-link from Medicaid, the Department reserves the right to revisit the criteria and adjust if needed.

Sanctions

Families are subject to sanctions when they fail, without good cause, to comply with program requirements. Families in sanctioned status continue to be eligible for Work First services, and services are offered to help the family comply with requirements and regain eligibility for a payment. County Work First Block Grant plans describe collaborative arrangements that are in place in county departments of social services to insure that the welfare of children in Work First families is protected.

There are five types of sanction that are imposed when participants fail to comply with program requirements:

1. Non-cooperation With Child Support Enforcement

   When a parent or other adult caretaker fails, without good cause, to cooperate with Child Support Enforcement, the entire family will be ineligible for a Work First Family Assistance payment for one month or until compliance, whichever is later. The children remain eligible for Medicaid. The adult is not eligible for Medicaid, unless pregnant. The family remains eligible for Work First Services.

2. Substance Abuse Treatment

   If a substance abuse assessment indicates a need for substance abuse treatment and the adult fails, without good cause, to comply with the treatment plan, the adult is ineligible for cash assistance until he/she is in compliance with treatment. The adult continues to be included in the family and continues to be considered a Work First recipient for purposes of the work requirement and time limits. The family’s payment is recalculated with the adult excluded from the needs, and the payment is made to a protective payee.

3. Mutual Responsibility Agreement (MRA) Non-compliance

   Failure to comply, without good cause, with terms and conditions of the Mutual Responsibility Agreement, other than the child support and substance abuse requirements, will result in the entire family being ineligible for a Work First Family Assistance payment for one month or until compliance, whichever is longer. The family remains eligible for Work First Services.

4. Intentional Program Violation (IPV)

Individuals found to have committed an intentional program violation are disqualified from Work First Family Assistance for 12 months for the first offense, 24 months for the second offense, and permanently for the third. The individual continues to be included in the family and continues to be considered a Work First recipient for purposes of the work requirement and time limits. The family’s payment is recalculated with the individual excluded from the needs.

5. Pay –after-Performance

Pay after Performance will be eliminated as a benefit delivery method for two-parent families only if the federal two parent work participation is eliminated.

Families in sanction status will be apprised of available community resources, including assistance through the county department of social services. All agency staff are trained in indicators of child abuse and neglect and are expected to make reports as appropriate.

A family may avoid a sanction if good cause for non-compliance exists. Good cause is defined as:

- A significant family crisis or change;
- Illness of the caretaker or child, including participation in substance abuse treatment or medical appointment;
- Civil leave, including jury duty, or a required court appearance; and
- Any other reason deemed sufficient by the county director or designee.
APPENDIX D

ELECTING COUNTIES

In general, Electing Counties and Standard Counties have the same level of flexibility in designing their employment services programs to meet the federal participation rates and statewide Work First goals while addressing local circumstances. However, Electing Counties also have the opportunity to establish their own eligibility criteria and benefit levels.

In September 2006, 11 counties notified the Department of their desire to be designated as Electing Counties. After initially requesting to continue as an Electing County, in February and March 2007 respectively, Stokes and Sampson Counties have requested to be redesignated as a Standard County.

The Department has the responsibility to ensure that the Work First Program in all counties complies with federal and State law and the Work First goals. Under State Law, Electing Counties’ caseloads combined cannot exceed 15.5% of the Work First caseload on September 1 of each year.

All of the Electing County plans were reviewed by representatives from the following agencies of state government: Division of Child Development, Division of Medical Assistance, Division of Social Services, and the Attorney General’s Office. Reviewers returned written comments to the Family Support and Child Welfare Services Section of the Division of Social Services.

Because the caseloads of the counties requesting Electing status, in aggregate, are well below the 15.5% minimum (5.5%), it was not necessary to rank the plans for the purpose of choosing the best plans to recommend. With minor adjustments, all the plans were in compliance with applicable laws, rules and regulations, and all were suitable to be recommended to the General Assembly as Electing Counties.

State law (NCGS 108A-27 e) requires that a county that desires to be redesignated shall submit a request in writing to the Department at least six months prior to the effective date of the next State Plan. The six-month deadline for the current proposed State Plan was April 1, 2007.

Wilson County has requested redesignation from Standard to Electing. Stokes and Sampson Counties have requested redesignation as a Standard County. The remaining eight counties recommended to remain Electing are: Beaufort, Caldwell, Catawba, Iredell, Lenoir, Lincoln, Macon, and McDowell.

Funding for all counties is specified in the State law. For Electing Counties, block grants are based on the percentage of each county’s total AFDC and JOBS expenditures to statewide actual expenditures in 1995-96. For cash assistance, the resulting percentage is applied to the total budgeted funds for cash assistance for each year.

Electing Counties’ eligibility criteria and processes, where available, are described on the following pages. Many Electing Counties chose to follow some of the Standard County rules. When and if Electing County rules change to be the same as those of Standard Counties, no State Plan amendment will be submitted. If changes other than to conform to Standard County rules are made, an amended State Plan will be submitted. Unless outlined on the following pages, the Electing County is following the Standard County rules.

WORK OVER WELFARE IN CABARRUS COUNTY

In legislation ratified June 12, 2003, the North Carolina General Assembly provided for the continuation of the Work Over Welfare (WOW) Program in Cabarrus County as a demonstration welfare reform program for certain Work First and Food Stamp recipients.

Except as described below, Work First in Cabarrus County operates under the standard policies described in the State TANF Plan.

The Cabarrus County WOW Program provides job opportunities to all able-bodied Work First and Food Stamp recipients who are required to participate in Work First Employment Services.

WOW is primarily a wage-supplementation program that diverts the Work First benefits and the cash value of Food Stamp benefits that would be paid to recipients to match employer funds and subsidize the recipients’ wages.

Wages paid to WOW participants, which contain grant-diverted funds, are exempt from income for purpose of determining eligibility for assistance.

Participants are subject to termination of Work First benefits for the household the month following any month in which they fail to comply with participation requirements. Benefits are restored after the client agrees to comply with requirements and files a new application.

To ensure that children are not harmed, sanctioned households are monitored by social workers, and benefits may be paid directly to vendors for basic needs.

All individuals will be evaluated for ongoing Medicaid any time Work First terminates.

A recipient who voluntarily terminates employment without good cause will be ineligible for Work First until the individual returns to work, provided work opportunities are available.

Failure or refusal to pursue child support without good cause is grounds for denial of benefits.

Benefit Diversion payments will be made in amounts up to one thousand two hundred dollars ($1,200). Applicants receiving the diversion payment will not be eligible for ongoing Work First benefits for a period of three months from the date of receipt of the diversion payment. Individuals receiving a diversion payment must attend budgetary counseling and may be required to have a protective payee for the diversion payment.

Federal funds may be transferred from the TANF Block Grant to the Social Services Block Grant to be used to pay for home studies, attorney fees, ongoing cash payments for the adoptive family, and other adoption expenses for Work First children who are living with relatives other than their biological parents.
