The motion to approve the minutes with the above change was made by Commissioner Jeffrey Anstead and seconded by Commissioner Charles Richardson. Motion carried.

INFORMATION ITEMS:

FLOWER FUND REPORT: Commissioner Wanda Burns-Ramsey gave a brief update on the status of the flower fund as follows:

June 2016 - Total: $169
September 2016 - Total: $266.86
Deposit: Final Total: $435.86 (previous meeting)
Expenditures: $165.50

Commissioner Burns-Ramsey indicated that the contribution fee per member is $6. She listed the members that have paid their dues for this year (as of June 3, 2016), as follows: Furnie Lambert, Shirley Freeman, Jessie Jacobs, Sam Lambert and Walter D. Baucom. She noted that the rest of the members need to pay their contribution for this year.

PRESENTATIONS:
VETERANS SERVICE OFFICERS: Mr. Jim Prosser, Assistant Secretary for Veterans Affairs, NC Military Veterans Affairs and Mr. J.D. Arch, representative of the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians presented the item as follows:
- A brief description on the state benefits plan for Veterans was discussed. To ensure that all Veterans understand their benefits coverage and receive their benefits. It was expressed that rural area Veterans were a challenge to reach.
- To establish Veteran offices in each Tribal and Urban Communities. It was noted that Veterans’ administrations suggested that members from the community could be trained and go through the accreditation process and work in the newly established Veterans office for twenty hours per week and get paid. The tribal and urban offices could pay these potential officers $1 and then the Veterans’ office could train and pay them accordingly. In order to be qualified, the candidates would need to pass a test after their training,
The rules and regulations are as per the state of North Carolina. Web seminars are conducted for people who could not attend the course in person. After completing the training, their official title would be "Veteran Service Officer". The officers can work with the following entities: American Legion, Vietnam Veterans of America, The Officers Guild, etc. The NC Veterans' Administration modeled their accreditation process after the American Legion.

Mr. Processer discussed the state legislature funding authorization and matching dollar process. The state legislature authorizes an allocation to each tribe. Previously a $2,000 fee in matching grant was provided. The matching grant was reduced to $1,452. It was stated that as long as the tribes and urban communities have a program, funding is allocated based on the request received by December 31st. He expressed that the matching grant option was removed during the recession period. The first fifteen members that enroll for the program will receive a Lenovo tablet as an incentive.

The County policy indicates, in order to receive a service one has to live or work in the county.

Burial sites for Veterans were discussed.

Free scholarship funds were available for training a Veterans Service Officer. Applications for scholarships are accepted twice a year (January and June).

Non-competitive service scholarship is for the family members of the deceased Veterans (who died on active duty or service connected disability or 100% disable).

Competitive service scholarship, these are based on grades, essay, parents financial need, etc. A total of 100 scholarships are given each year.

The deadline to submit the competitive scholarship forms is February 14, 2017. The non-competitive scholarship forms are due in December 1, 2016, and June 1, 2017, (twice a year). The June forms will be approved in July for the fall semester.

A statute of Private First Class, Charles George, Cherokee Indian and Medal of Honor recipient was displayed for members to view. It was noted that two life size statues are currently in display (one at the Charles George Veterans Administration Medical Center, Asheville, NC and the other at the Cherokee Veterans Memorial Park in Cherokee, NC).

Copies of the resource guides were distributed.

Comments and suggestion from the Commission:

> Commissioner Marvel Welch thanked Mr. Prosser and Mr. Arch. She expressed that she has seen an improvement on the Veterans services available in the Eastern Band of Cherokee Nation tribal area.

> Commission members requested a handout of the presentation with the funding details and other opportunities.

> Commission members asked for eligibility details. Mr. Prosser indicated that tribes and the counties were eligible for the funding.

> Clarification on the NC state’s scholarship program was requested.

> Commission members asked if funding is provided to set up an office.

> Mr. Prosser noted that funding is not provided to set up an office, but if a tribe has a Tribal Veteran Officer, the Veterans’ Administration office will help with finding a way to set up an office space.

> Currently the scholarship funding is 75% due to budget restrictions. The scholarships are eligible for children of Veterans. He informed Commission members to advocate the scholarship funds.

> Mr. Richardson requested each Commission member to submit a name (council or staff member) within their tribe as a contact person for Veteran related issues. He suggested that the existing Veterans Service Officers will need to work with the other tribes to get the Veterans Service offices started. He expressed that the Urban Indians need to be included.

- Commission members asked clarifying questions if the applicant needs to apply each year for their Scholarship. It was stated that the accepted applicants can utilize the scholarship for all the eight semesters.
- Commissioner members invited Mr. Prosser to present a work session during the 2017 Unity Conference.

Veterans Recognition – NC Indian Unity Conference: Vice-Chairwoman Shirley Freeman indicated that Ms. Karen Harris, indicated that there was not enough documentation on the American Indian Veterans and its history. The Committee has contacted other tribes and organizations and requested that they send a representative to be a part of this project. The group will select a Veteran from different communities, interview them, record the conversation and make a 36 X 40” quilt to represent what they narrated during the interview. Vice-Chairman Freeman indicated that this project needs total participation from all the tribes. She expressed that the group wants to recognize 16 Veterans from across the state so that the American Indian Veterans can finally get the recognition they deserve.

NC Department of Public Instruction – Every Student Succeeds Act Presentation: Mr. Lou Fabrizio, Director of Data Research & Federal Policy, & Donna Brown, Director of Federal Program Monitoring & Support presented a quick overview of this item as follows:

- Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA) – This ESSA law replaces the “No Child Left Behind” legislation.
- Handouts were distributed.
- A business card with the following web addresses were distributed:
  - Every Student Succeeds Act Website: www.ncpublicschools.org/succeeds
  - Every Student Succeeds Draft NC Plan:
    - Let’s Talk Website (Ask a questions or submit comments):
      - www.ncpublicschools.org/newsroom/lets-talk
- Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA):
  - Holds ALL students to high academic standards
  - Prepares ALL students for success in college and career
  - Provides more kids access to high-quality preschool
  - Promotes local innovation and invests in what works
  - Increases state flexibility with student testing while maintaining annual information for parents and students.
  - Continues to help students, and their schools, improve.
- Mr. Fabrizio noted that the questions or comments left on the “Let’s talk website” will be reviewed and responded through the system by him or Ms. Brown. He expressed this is one of the ways they will be collecting the data regarding the draft plan “Every Student Succeeds Act”.
- He discussed the PowerPoint presentation as follows:
  - ESSA Brief Highlights
  - Draft Stakeholder Groups
  - Fall Public Comment Sessions
  - ESSA Draft Timeline (revised Dec. 2016)
  - Initial Draft State Plan
What the draft plan is and what the draft plan is not
- US Department of Education
- Highlights of released regulations
- Other odds and ends
- Further information and Contact information

- Mr. Fabrizio indicated that there were choices of two dates to submit the ESSA plan (March 2017 and September 2017). He noted that the State Board of Education has opted to seek the approval of the ESSA plan in September of 2017. He expressed that due to the uncertainty of the North Carolina gubernatorial elections it is postponed to September 2017, this will also allow enough time for the State Board to make the necessary changes.
- He stated that each of these State Plans will have to be approved by the US Department of Education.
- He also discussed the School Performance Grades (A through F grading system). He noted that these do not align with the new ESSA legislation. Mr. Fabrizio indicated that the State Board of Education is in contact with the General Assembly to find out how best they could resolve this situation. The stakeholder groups have indicated that they would prefer one system rather than the potential of having an A-F grade system which does not align with the ESSA act. He expressed that the other kind of designation that the State Board would generate does meet the requirements of ESSA. He concluded that this will require changes in State Statutes in order to provide one unified system.
- He noted that the presentation in March at the Unity Conference will give many people the opportunity to inform them of the suggested changes in the proposed draft of the ESSA plan.
- It was suggested that members should read the short version of the draft ESSA plan that was distributed or could go to the website and read the entire plan.
- The following highlights on released regulations were noted: (1) Delays identification of schools for Comprehensive Support and Improvement (CSI) to 2018-19 based on 2017-18 school year data. (2) Delays identification of schools for Targeted Support and Improvement (TSI) to 2019-20 based on 2017-18 & 2018-19 school years of data.

- Commission members asked several clarifying questions.
- Mr. Fabrizio noted the following:
  - Teacher Evaluations: The teacher evaluations are state level decision. He expressed that the US department of education will not look at what the state does.

Changes in Common Core were discussed. It was noted that some changes have been implemented in Mathematics (grades 3-8 math). English Language Arts are currently being assessed/tested.

It was suggested that Commission members should submit their comments on the ESSA plan, so that their concerns could be included in the changes.

Mr. Fabrizio provided a brief bio of Mr. Mark Johnson, new State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Mr. Fabrizio noted that due to the changes in the government he was uncertain that the proposed draft regulations would pass in a timely manner and that it would take time to finalize.

Commission members asked question on Individualized Education Plan (IEP) for special education students. Mr. Fabrizio stated that a lot of students with disability do not have issues with their cognitive skills.

Mr. Greg Richardson pointed to the page 2 of the PowerPoint presentation regarding the draft stakeholder group’s information; he questioned why the Commission of Indian Affairs was not one of the stakeholders. He requested Commission members who are educators to raise their hands. He expressed that there is a lot of interest and experience among the Commission members. - Special Presentation – UNC-Pembroke: A request was made to move this item forward.

SPECIAL PRESENTATION:
UNC-Pembroke: Dr. Robin Cummings, Chancellor presented the following:
- He introduced Ms. Julie Smith, Legislative Liaison, UNC-Pembroke. Ms. Smith graduated from University of Virginia Law School. A handout was distributed.
- He provided a brief history of UNC-Pembroke. He expressed that American Indian need to be proud of UNC-Pembroke because it is part of their heritage. The University started 129 years ago. It is the third oldest University in the State of North Carolina. It was established on March 7, 1887. The school was designed to teach American Indian students in the area. It has been through several name changes, such as: Cherokee Indian School; Pembroke State College/University; and now it is the University of North Carolina at Pembroke.
- UNC-Pembroke, the legislators have historically named it as North Carolina American Indian University. There are 800 identified American Indian students on campus. A total of eleven tribes.

Due to lack of space to display the fine art, the museum in Washington would share their artifacts with the museum here at Pembroke.
  - American Indian Studies Program: Six faculty members teach American Indian studies to obtain an undergraduate degree and master’s degree at UNC-Pembroke. Their goal is to one day have a doctorate degree.
  - He expressed the vision and goal of UNC-Pembroke. He informed that in a few years the American Indian population would be proud of their accomplishments.

scholarship program with the Veterinarian colleges to do the same. He is also working with Campbell University for the scholarship programs.

- Dr. Cummings concluded that their School of Business has received $23M with the Connect NC Bond that was passed last year by the state of North Carolina. These funds will be spent to build a brand new School of Business building. He noted that the building costs $36M due to the technology costs. The goal is to build a brand new state-of-the-art facility. He informed that due to the overwhelming positive result on the bond, the state will give a billion dollars to various educational institutions across the state of North Carolina.

- He noted that UNC-Pembroke is accredited. Only 5% of the School of Businesses world-wide is accredited. UNC-Pembroke is one of them. He indicated that to reach this goal, certain milestones need to be achieved. The school is growing every year. He informed that Robeson County will be turning out students with high achievements.

These three schools mentioned above, the legislation has said “if you are a student of North Carolina and coming from one of the three schools identified, the state of North Carolina will buy down the tuition down to $500 per semester”. He asked the Commission to be a part of the vision and look in to the future to take care of the next seven generations to come.

- UNC-Pembroke is also offering on-line courses.

- He remembered Chairwoman Ruth Revels and Mr. Gervais Oxidine. He expressed his appreciation and stated that they cared about their community.

COMMENTS FROM COMMISSION MEMBERS:

- A suggestion was made to include the $500 received by the seven gentlemen one hundred and twenty-nine years ago to start a school, with the vision for the next seven generations as a marketing campaign.

- Is there a plan B just in case the legislation does not approve to attend the universities with the reduced rate? Dr. Cummings indicated that it is law that the legislation passed. Students get a quality education for $3000 discount. He stated that other schools such as Fayetteville University, Winston-Salem University, and Appalachian University around the state would love to have this opportunity to receive the NC Promise funding.
Questions were asked if the school expands in the future will it be able to accommodate the growing number of students.

Dr. Cummings indicated that they are studying the data and making plans for the future. He pointed out that the classroom size ratio is currently fifteen students to one teacher. If the enrollment goes up over 8000 students he will put in a request for more buildings. He indicated that this plan is in progress because they have to apply 2-3 years in advance for the funding.

Question was asked about Charter Schools and its involvement. Dr. Cummings indicated that there was a piece of legislation that went through last year called the lab schools. It was noted that UNC Pembroke will not be participating in this program due to prior commitments.
