

North Carolina Indian Child Welfare “Gathering”

Protecting Our Native Children

“It takes a Village: To be a community”

April 4, 2019

Co-sponsors:

- North Carolina Commission of Indian Affairs' Indian Child Welfare Committee
- In partnership with: The NC Department of Health & Human Services, NC Guardian Ad Litem Program, Administration of Courts, Coharie Tribe

Audience: We encourage participation from all Indian communities across the state! Tribal Community Members, Tribal Representatives, Tribal Enrollment Officers, DHHS workers, GALs, Court Officials, and others that work within the Indian Child Welfare System. Foster Parents of Families interested in licensure program. Social Workers, Counselor's

Objectives: Educate and update on Indian Child Welfare in North Carolina

Identify: “Strengths/Concerns”, improving ICW

Establish: Capacity building among the NC Indian Tribes, North Carolina Commission of Indian Affairs and the North Carolina Department of Health & Human Services

NC Commission
of Indian Affairs

Sampson County Agri-Exposition Center
414 Warsaw Road
Clinton, NC 28328
Time: 8:30 am to 3:00 pm

The “Gathering” will be a culture preservation approach toward improving relations and capacity building among the North Carolina Indian Tribes and the NC Department of Health & Human Services in regards to Indian Child Welfare.

Registration is Free

REGISTRATION REQUIRED DUE TO LIMITED SEATING

Register Online: www.nciscc.com
Alternate—Register by Phone:
(919) 807-4448—Nikki Locklear

Deadline for registration: March 15, 2019