2017 – 2018 Meeting Dates & Events
- December 1, 2017 - Commission Meeting – Location to be announced
- March 1-3, 2018 – NC Indian Unity Conference

Location
To Be Announced
Sheraton Hotel, Greensboro, NC
As a member of the North Carolina Commission of Indian Affairs and duly appointed to represent the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians. And as such was taken back to hear of the swift actions and resolution taken by this Commission on June 2, 2017. I was not in attendance on this day due to commitments of the Remember the Removal where member’s of the Eastern Band along with our relations of the Cherokee Nation join together in honoring our past relations on the horrific “Trail of Tears”.

Being a member of the North Carolina Commission of Indian Affairs Recognition Committee I have seen and read and aware of the criteria and process that groups have too satisfy to be recognized here in this state. And, we do have groups here as most of you are well aware of that seek recognition by the State legislature instead of going through the process with the Commission of Indian Affairs. That is a total disregard to the recognition process of the North Carolina Commission of Indian Affairs. There is no difference in the resolution to support Lumbee Recognition Act that was past on June 2, 2017 for federal legislative recognition.

As a member and representative of my people of the Eastern Band, I want to clarify our concerns on the Lumbee Recognition Act resolution. On two occasions I have heard this statement given by Chairman Godwin “with full support of the North Carolina Commission of Indian Affairs”. The appointed representatives of the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians Sam Lambert and myself were not aware of such actions that were going to brought to the table as for it was not on the Agenda to be addressed or put on the agenda as an action item. Because we have to address issues of this sort with out Tribal leaders and make informed decisions to these matters we would not have voted (Mr. Lambert abstained) and Mr. Lambert cannot proxy my vote we at the very least given the opportunity to have recommended the resolution “Lumbee Recognition Act” be tabled until consultation with our Tribal leaders.

Needless to say that it was not the case and for the record Eastern Band of Cherokee Indian do not support the action taken. Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians fully supports any Indian community that petitions the Bureau of Indian Affairs office of Federal Acknowledgment and satisfying the specific criteria of recognition. Lumbee Recognition Act is an attempt to circumvent the recognition process of the Bureau of Indian Affairs. The United States has a complex set of criteria and a federal acknowledgement process each tribe must undergo to determine recognition eligibility. Any person or persons educated in Indian law or versed in Indian affairs are aware that federal recognition of an Indian Tribe is a very serious matter.

As a member of and representing and speaking for the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians we are not in support of this resolution “Lumbee Recognition Act” in federal legislative recognition. Thank you for your time in listening to our concern on federal legislative recognition.
NORTH CAROLINA COMMISSION OF INDIAN AFFAIRS
Annual Meeting
Executive Director’s Report
NC Association of Educators Building
700 Salisbury Street
Raleigh, North Carolina 27601
September 1, 2017

The purpose of this report is to provide members of the Commission with an overview of my work and activities for the quarter ending September 30, 2017. Welcome to our new and returning Commission members.

A. Budget Update

The Commission’s base budget has been increased from approximately $335,412 to $682,336 for the SFY 2017-2018 and includes; one time funding of $250,000 for state recognition efforts and $100,000 for a grant-in-aid for the Lumbee Cultural Center in Robeson County.

B. NC Measurability Assessment – Self Assessment

Pursuant to N.C. General Statutes Chapter 143E, a self-assessment must be completed by for all state programs. The NC Department of Administration is the first state agency to undergo the Measurability Assessment. This quarter we started the Self – Assessment and the work will proceed into the next quarter. The initial phase of the work is the completion of a self-assessment tool, which requires the Commission to address 14 measurability indicators.

The law defines a measurability assessment as an independent evaluation of a program’s progress on 14 indicators, which collectively represent characteristics of well-managed, low-risk programs. Measurability assessments are a means of holding public programs accountable to the public, the executive branch, and lawmakers.

It was noted that most proposed and existing programs are unlikely to meet all indicators because the criteria specified by the Measurability Assessment Act are “stretch” standards and not otherwise required by law. However, programs that adhere to these standards are more likely to achieve success and thus represent safer investments of taxpayer funds. The purpose of the Measurability Assessment Program is to provide the General Assembly and agencies with a tool to inform their policy and budget choices as well as to indicate the extent to which a program’s outcomes can be rigorously evaluated. After an assessment, the General Assembly will determine if the program’s degree of measurability is satisfactory to justify new or continued funding.

All DOA program shall complete a separate Self-Assessment Form as part of the process August 22 and continue into the next quarter.

C. NC General Assembly Actions

The General Assembly has authorized the following funding for the Commission:
House Bill 720 – Title: Funds for Indian Affairs Commission Staff – Introduced by Rep. Michael Wray and Howard Hunter

An Act to appropriate funds to provide staff for the Indian Commission in the amount of $250,000 for SFY 2017-2018 and $250,000 for SFY 2018-2019. The funds shall be used to provide staff support for the Commission’s state recognition efforts. Once the funding is released, we will proceed to hire additional staff to prepare the findings and conclusion regarding the Tuscarora Petition for State Recognition and to review other petitions pending review by the commission.

These funds were appropriated to the Commission, through the NC Department of Health and Human Services.

Conference Report on the Base, Capital and Expansion Budget

Item 107 Lumbee Cultural Center, Fund Code: 1861 Provides a grant – in aid to the Lumbee Cultural Center in Robeson County. The revised net appropriation to the Lumbee Cultural Center is $100,000 in FY 2017-18.

E. Environmental Justice Forum

The Environmental Justice Forum was held August 9th at the Chief W.R. Richardson Trial Complex located in the Haliwa-Saponi Tribal Community. A representative of all tribes was in attendance as well as one Urban Indian Association representative. The tribal representatives gave an overview of Environmental Justice issues that they are facing in their prospective communities. Mr. John Nicholson, Chief Deputy Secretary of the NC Department of Quality (DEQ) was present along with other staff from that office. Mr. Nicholson and his staff provided an overview of the roles and responsibilities of the DEQ staff, as it relates to environmental justice issues, the Atlantic Coast Pipeline, Coal Ash and PCB, that is stored at a land fill in Warren County and near the Haliwa-Saponi Indian Community. Sarah Rice with DEQ reported that coal ash is stored at a land fill near the Town of Littleton and that the PCB stored in Warren County has been neutralized and no longer considered a hazard to the community. Also in attendance were; Ms. Rae Gogal, Office of native American Affairs, Advisory Council on Historic Preservation, Washington, DC, Mr. Daniel Gogal, Tribal and Indigenous Peoples Program Manager, Office of Environmental Justice, Washington DC and Laura Mckelvey, with the EPA in the Research Triangle Park, NC.

WHO WE ARE

The Land Loss Prevention Project (LLPP) is a non-profit public interest organization providing comprehensive legal services and technical support to North Carolina’s financially distressed and limited resource farmers and landowners seeking to preserve their farms, homes, land and rural livelihoods. The LLPP protects vulnerable landowners from land loss and environmental degradation through legal representation and outreach statewide and empowers farmers to access business resources including credit in a timely manner.

In 1982, a task force of the North Carolina Association of Black Lawyers founded the LLPP to stem the unprecedented losses of Black-owned land in North Carolina. The LLPP was incorporated as an independent entity in the state of North Carolina in 1983. In 1993, the LLPP broadened its scope to provide legal support and assistance to all financially eligible, low-resource farmers and landowners throughout the state.

In State fiscal years 13-14, 14-15, and 15-16, the LLPP achieved $1,704,438.99 in debt relief, loan modifications, and awards for clients across its practice areas. In FY 2015-2016, the LLPP preserved land, homes, and farms with a total tax value of $3,254,972, retaining critical assets for families in need and protecting farms and agricultural businesses.

STAFF

The Land Loss Prevention Project has seven staff members: an executive director, a team of attorney advocates consisting of the deputy director and four staff attorneys, and a program manager. Together, they participate in direct legal representation, technical assistance, outreach, and policy innovation to preserve farming operations, homes, and land; support sustainable communities; and foster agricultural entrepreneurship.

Explore how to protect the land, preserve your home, and grow your agricultural business. If you are interested in having a workshop by LLPP attorneys presented in your area, please call (919) 682-5969.
ORGANIZATIONAL STRUCTURE

The LLPP’s organizational structure consists of a policy-governing Board of Directors and two operational units – the Litigation Unit and the Sustainable Development and Environment Unit.

The Litigation Unit represents eligible clients in legal matters in the following areas: agricultural; environmental; real property; consumer protection; wills/estate planning; civil rights; zoning, municipal services, and related issues; bankruptcy as a last-resort alternative to foreclosures (farms and/or homes); and business/agricultural business issues. The Litigation Unit also conducts legal seminars and works collaboratively with other organizations to expand the supportive services available to farmers and low-resource landowners and homeowners.

Encompassed within the Litigation Unit is a SmartGrowth Business Center, an internal resource, that provides counseling and representation to farmers who need business planning services in order to sustain and fortify their farming operations/businesses. Services include business entity formation, contractual review, counseling regarding the availability of federal programs and requirements, and risk management education. The Center provides viable options to farmers in order to avoid the problems that routinely lead to farm loss.

The Sustainable Development and Environment Unit works with state, regional and national coalitions that support new agriculture practices, sustainable development, and policy innovations in the food system. This in turn expands agriculture-based partnerships creating economic strategies which benefit farmers and landowners and their rural communities. A focus of the Unit is expanding access to environmental incentive and conservation programs. The Sustainable Development and Environment Unit and the Litigation Unit share staff.

VALUE-ADDED INVESTMENT IN RURAL COMMUNITIES

The LLPP is unique, the only non-profit law firm in the state that provides both expansive direct legal assistance to farmers and landowners in a variety of practice areas while maintaining a focus on agricultural law. Land security is the cornerstone of family asset retention, community economic development, environmental sustainability, and a healthy food system.

The LLPP’s statewide services benefit people in areas struggling with entrenched multi-generational poverty, including the historic Black Belt region of Eastern North Carolina.

Snapshot of Legal Matters Handled
Calendar Year 2016

- The LLPP assisted a woman who had recently lost her job to save her home. The LLPP collaborated with a counseling agency in this time-sensitive matter, resolving a lingering property issue connected with a divorce and removing the barrier to receiving mortgage payment assistance.

- A family owned their property that had been income-producing through a farmland lease and subsequently became more vulnerable when the farmer decided not to renew the agreement and the agricultural tax exemption was lost. Several family members who were not heirs to the property were living on the land rent-free. The LLPP drafted a mutually acceptable lease agreement between the heirs and the tenants that allowed the relatives (non-heirs) to keep their family living arrangements intact while making adequate provision for tax payment.

- The LLPP is assisting an African American female farmer who wishes along with her family members, also heirs, to preserve 200 plus acres of land willed to the family by her father. The family members want to protect the various tracts and create a more diversified and profitable farming enterprise. They had previously explored creating a business entity through a third party as a starting point, ultimately registering a corporation. The LLPP has provided consultation on how the corporation might operate and drafted corporate documents and deeds to facilitate consolidating the non-contiguous parcels into a beneficial entity, allowing the orderly use of the property and protecting and harnessing the tremendous capacity of the land for the next generation.

DRAFT Scope of Work: Powwow Economic Impact Analysis

Project Overview
American Indian tribes in North Carolina are major economic drivers as owners of businesses and administrators of major state and federally funded programs. One component of this economic impact are tribally sponsored powwows and other cultural events which serve as economic stimulus and important social gatherings for these communities. In most cases, these celebrations are public, which attract visitors and participants from outside the local area. The purpose of this project is to estimate the economic impact of these events. This will require the consideration of multiple aspects of these events, including but not limited to:

- Income produced by tribes and associations
- Visitor spending
- Merchant/vendor spending
- Operating costs (e.g., wages, competition prizes, drum group costs, etc.)

While much of this data can be estimated, surveys and interviews with key stakeholders and powwow visitors will provide the most accurate results. This data will then be used in an economic impact analysis conducted using IMPLAN, an input/output economic modelling software. Existing studies on the economic impact of powwows nationally will supplement the data collected.

Deliverables
The deliverable for this project will be a report including:

- Summary of spending data and visitor profile based on survey data
- Estimates of the direct, indirect and induced economic effects of powwows in North Carolina
- Detailed discussion of the primary drivers of economic impacts for the tribe and region
- Review of previous analyses of powwows’ economic impact

Project deliverables will undergo an expert external review and will be shared with all stakeholders for comment and review before being finalized. All data collected will be made available to all stakeholders and will be housed on servers at the Kenan Institute of Private Enterprise (http://www.kenaninstitute.unc.edu/). Final report deliverable will be distributed in digital and physical form to all stakeholders will be made publicly accessible online at http://NCGrowth.unc.edu.

Please note that powwows hosted by universities will not be included in this analysis.

Status update on the Atlantic Coast Pipeline and Related Projects
Ryan E. Emanuel, Ph.D. (Lumbee) ryan_emanuel@ncsu.edu
http://nativeenvironment.weebly.com/blog

I. Atlantic Coast Pipeline

Status: ACP is waiting on permits and certificates at both federal and state levels. The FERC is preparing to issue a record of decision on the developer’s application for a certificate of public convenience. Please recall that FERC’s final environmental impact statement was released in July. Their statement concluded that “a high level of public participation was achieved during the… review processes” and that poor and minority populations would not be disproportionately affected by the projects.

However, on April 6, 2017 the Advisory Council on Historic Preservation commented that FERC’s environmental review “misrepresents the Section 106 regulations” concerning public participation and consultation. The National Congress of American Indians issued a resolution in June 2016 calling on FERC to cease all ACP permitting activities until the Haliwa Saponi and other tribes were engaged in meaningful consultation by federal officials. Furthermore, I published a letter in Science magazine on July 21, 2017 highlighting flaws in FERC’s analysis of disproportionate impacts on Native Americans. FERC declined an invitation to attend the tribal leader’s Environmental Justice meeting in Hollister last month to explain.

NC DEQ is reviewing the developer’s application for water quality certification after receiving public comments and holding a number of public meetings and listening sessions, including listening sessions that targeted areas with large Native American populations. DEQ attended the Environmental Justice meeting. Decisions on the applications could come as soon as this month.

Recommendation: Tribal chairs, chiefs, and tribal councils should continue dialog with state regulators and continue trying to engage in dialog with federal regulators to articulate their concerns about this project. Tribes should consider how they want to respond to these pending decisions. The NCAI has issued a resolution in support of tribal consultation in North Carolina; tribal councils may want to consider taking their public comments from April and converting them into tribal resolutions.

In 2017, 36 students were selected to receive a $1,000 scholarship from the NC American Indian Fund Scholarship for the 2017-2018 academic year. These students represented 5 state-recognized tribes, 14 North Carolina counties, and 19 different post-secondary institutions within North Carolina. 11 of these students were returning applicants who had received funding in a previous academic year. Students are invited to reapply in 2018 for additional funding for the 2018-2019 academic year if they remain enrolled in an undergraduate program in North Carolina.

Information about this scholarship was provided on the Triangle Community Foundation website (a link to which was provided on the Commission website), and an announcement was also sent out to Commission members, tribal leaders, and Title VII coordinators when the application was available. 2017 applications were due May 1, 2017. In 2018, this same process will be followed, and the application will be due May 1, 2018.
