A GUIDE FOR THE PUBLIC

What is in the library?

The Charles H. Livengood Jr. Memorial Library is located on the fifth floor of the Old Revenue Building in Raleigh. Its collection consists of over 14,000 labor-related volumes, which includes more than 1,000 occupational safety and health-related videos.

Print: Topics include occupational safety and health, labor law, industrial hygiene and other related materials.

Most of the library's holdings are searchable through the State Library of North Carolina's Online Catalog: (NC Cardinal): <http://ncgov.nccardinal.org/eg/opac/home>.

Video: The library provides streaming video access (via The Training Network NOW) to its registered patrons. Additionally, the library lends videos to its registered patrons (a maximum of five at a time for a three week loan period). Please refer to the library's site for information on its video services:

<https://www.labor.nc.gov/safety-and-health/library/how-borrow-dvds-and-videos>.

Research assistance: The librarian can draw from both print and electronic resources to provide you with the information you need.

Visit: You are welcome to visit the library but please contact the library (919-707-7880; dol.library@labor.nc.gov) to make an appointment as access to the building is restricted. The librarian is also available to provide tours of the library.
