.0301 GENERAL

Employees of North Carolina Prisons are public servants with protective responsibilities. A high standard of professionalism shall be maintained consistent with safety and security standards and the correctional environment in which employees work. While on duty, employees, to include contractual employees with the exception of independent contractors, shall adhere to the acceptable standards of dress and grooming as set forth within this policy.

Appearance and grooming standards are based on several elements including safety and security, neatness, cleanliness, safety, professional correctional image, and uniformity in appearance and standards. The standards established here are not intended to be overly restrictive nor are they designed to isolate North Carolina Prisons' personnel from society. The limits set forth are reasonable, enforceable, and insure that personal appearance promotes a favorable correctional image.

It is the responsibility of the Commissioner, Assistant Commissioner, Directors, Region Directors, and Wardens to ensure that staff under their supervision are in compliance with the appearance and grooming regulations set forth in this policy.

The difference between men's and women's appearance policies recognizes the difference between the sexes; i.e., side burns for men, different hairstyles and cosmetics for women. Establishing identical grooming and personal appearance standards for men and women is not a factor in the assurance of equal opportunity, and would not be in the North Carolina Prisons’ best interest. In an effort to recognize the diversified roles for employees of North Carolina Prisons, appearance and grooming standards are arranged in four categories listed below:

(a) Category I - Uniformed Custody and Food Service Personnel
Uniformed correctional officer, lead correctional officer, sergeant, lieutenant, food service officers I and II and captains, should follow the appearance and grooming standards listed for Category I employees.

(b) Category II – Non uniformed Administrative/Management
Non-uniformed Administrative/Management staff including Commissioner, Assistant Commissioner, Directors, Region Directors, Region Operation Managers, Wardens, Deputy Wardens, Associate Wardens, and Regional and Facility Administrative Officers should dress in professional attire which is generally defined as attire that is considered to be appropriate in a conventional, conservative business setting. (i.e. dresses, dress shirts, dress pants, ties and scarves) Men’s and women’s suits and sport coats may be worn as deemed appropriate based on the setting or event.
When tasks such as audits or inspections are conducted, administrative/management staff may dress in business casual attire or appropriate attire which meets the nature of the assignment.

(c) Category III - Other Personnel With Direct / Frequent Offender Contact
Non-uniformed custody employees including unit managers, assistant unit managers, food service managers III/IV and non-custody employees including program staff, health care providers, mental health providers, maintenance personnel and other job classes with duties involving direct and frequent contact with offenders should follow the appearance and grooming standards listed for Category II employees.

(d) Category IV - Non-Uniformed Personnel With Minimal Offender Contact
Non-uniformed employees with minimal offender contact may include but are not limited to facility clerical, fiscal, administrative, and personnel staff, and region/central office staff. Each facility or section head will be responsible for making the final determination regarding employees classified in this category that should follow the appearance and grooming standards for Category IV employees. Whenever the nature of their duties requires Category IV employees to work within the confines of a facility or in direct contact with offenders, Category IV employees are expected to adhere to the same standards on jewelry, clothing, and makeup as Category III employees. Category IV employee should not be required to modify differences between Category II and Category IV employees such as hair length or fingernail length that would require a permanent modification.

Directors, Wardens and other North Carolina Prisons’ managers who provide management oversight of uniformed and non-uniformed personnel are vested with discretion in matters of grooming and personal appearance regarding the interpretation and application of these established guidelines. As designated by the Commissioner, the Executive Officer will serve as the contact person who Wardens and other North Carolina Prisons managers may contact to help them with the interpretation and application of this policy.

.0302 APPEARANCE STANDARDS

This jacket will have a removable liner and is water-repellent. This will act as the sole jacket approved for wear by a uniformed staff member. No

(b) Category III & IV:

1. Employees should dress in a manner that will ensure their personal safety and project a professional, modest, conservative image. While on duty, employees may wear either business casual or professional attire; however, the attire must be appropriate, neat, and compatible with the correctional environment and should not detract from the overall mission of the Agency. Any attire that is of extreme design, revealing in nature, or that conveys messages of a derogatory or offensive nature through language, logos, or symbols is prohibited. Non-certified staff are prohibited from wearing the uniform Double Duty Officer Jacket.

   (A) Business casual is generally defined as attire that is less formal in appearance than professional attire but that remains appropriate for a conservative office environment.

   (B) Professional attire is generally defined as attire that is considered to be appropriate in a conventional, conservative business setting. (i.e., men's and women's suits, sport coats, dresses, dress shirts, dress pants, ties, and scarves)

2. When an employee is on duty and the employee's job requires appearance in a court of law, representing the Agency in an official capacity, or attending official functions, the employee is expected to wear appropriate professional attire unless an exception is granted by the employee's supervisor. A factor in determining the requirement for business casual attire in lieu of professional attire may be based on the normal attire of the customer, business, or agency involved in the meeting.

3. Examples of acceptable apparel for employees to wear at work include dress slacks/skirts to include khaki style slacks/skirts, a dress shirt/blouse, polo style shirts, turtlenecks, suits, (types include pant, skirt and dress) dresses, etc. Skirts/dresses may be no shorter than the top of the kneecap and slacks should be mid-calf or full length. (C) While maintenance personnel are involved with work on a routine basis that is likely to soil the uniform, it is expected that the maintenance uniform will be neat and clean at the start of each work day. The uniform should be worn in its entirety in the performance of duties, and should not be worn for non-duty activities. Examples of non-duty activities include but are not limited to purchasing or consuming alcoholic beverages; attending social functions, movies or sporting events; and secondary employment.

(D) Wearing a cap is an employee option and caps will not be issued to an employee unless specifically requested by the employee. The standard uniform headgear upon request by the employee will be the baseball style cap issued through Enterprise with closed top. Toboggans are approved (no bib, bill, tassel, or logo).
