Concrete Methods for Advancing Equity and Opportunity for People Impacted by the Criminal Justice System
College & Community Fellowship (CCF) is a non-profit dedicated to helping women with criminal convictions earn college degrees so that they, their families, and their communities can thrive. We advocate for equity and opportunity for the communities we serve.

CCF supports students until graduation day and beyond, providing academic support, career development, financial coaching, and much more. We approach systemic change through our national advocacy and technical assistance programs.
Trauma-Informed Service Delivery

Raising Education Awareness
Raising Education Awareness

- CCF believes in the transformative power of higher education

- Higher education has not always been part of the reentry conversation
  - Education has been under-recognized as a tool for successful reacclimation
History of Education in Prison

- Education offered in prison as early as 1798, as religious instruction designed for repentance
- Evolved to include subjects beyond religion
- Was utilized overall as a measure of self-improvement for people convicted of crimes
Federal Pell Grants

• Established in 1965 to increase access to higher education for low-income students

• Became a key support for CJ-involved students to earn college degrees
Violent Crime Control and Law Enforcement Act

- 1994 approximately 23,000 state and federal prisoners used Pell grants
- In that same year, all students would be barred from continuing their education as a result of the law
Second Chance Pell

- July 2016 the Second Chance Pell Experiment was enacted
- The goal of the initiative is to learn whether participation in educational opportunities increases after access to financial aid for incarcerated adults is expanded
- Also examining how the reinstatement of college access in federal and state prisons affects overall post-release outcomes
Prison-Based Education Works

- Participants in correctional education programs are 48% less likely to recidivate.
- In prison college programs have fewer violent incidents, creating overall safer correction institutions for both staff and incarcerated people.

Vera Institute of Justice. Expanding Access to Postsecondary Education in Prison
‘...By 2020 65% of jobs will require postsecondary education and training beyond high school. Only 11% of incarcerated people in state prisons have completed at least some postsecondary education.’
