

PROCEDURAL RULES THAT APPLY TO CONTESTED CASES IN COUNTY COURTHOUSES

Three of North Carolina's Administrative Law Judges have chambers in county courthouses outside of Wake County. Judge J. Randall May is the resident administrative law judge in the High Point, Guilford County Courthouse. Judge Selina Malherbe is the resident administrative law judge in the Mecklenburg County Courthouse. Judge David F. Sutton is the resident administrative law judge in the Haywood County Courthouse. When contested cases are scheduled to be heard in these courthouses, the emergency crisis administrative orders and protocols issued by the Senior Resident Superior Court judges in those counties control. These orders and protocols supersede the directives issued by the Chief Administrative Law Judge for the Raleigh headquarters of the Office of Administrative Hearings. You may find a copy of the Administrative Orders governing those counties respectively at one of the following links: Guilford County, Haywood County and Mecklenburg County

In addition, when contested cases are scheduled to be heard in any of North Carolina's one hundred counties, the emergency crisis administrative orders and protocols of the respective Senior Resident Superior Court judge controls all aspects of the hearings in those county courthouses. These emergency orders can be found on the website of the North Carolina Administrative Office of the Courts at the following link: <https://www.nccourts.gov/locations>
