The Office of State Budget and Management's (OSBM) Annual Budget Conference will be held on Wednesday, October 15 from 9:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at the McKimmon Center in Raleigh. Our office has assembled an informative and exciting agenda. The theme for this year's conference is "Maintaining Quality in a Time of Limited Resources". The keynote speaker will be Reginald Hinton, Secretary of the North Carolina Department of Revenue. Sessions for the conference include The Transitional Workplace, The State of North Carolina's and the U.S. Economy, Statewide Budget Issues, OSBM's Website and breakout sessions. I am certain the time you spend at the Conference will be well spent.

Registration is now open by clicking on the registration link located under the 'Events and Training' center section of the OSBM website (www.osbm.state.nc.us). The registration deadline is Monday, October 13, 2008, and the per person registration fee is $65.00 (includes light breakfast and lunch). Each attendee must register individually, but your organization may submit one payment to cover all registration fees. The preferred method of payment is by electronic funds transfer through the North Carolina Accounting System (OSBM's vendor number is 561310675 and the group number is 04). If this option is not available a check will be sufficient. Also, if your payment covers multiple registration fees, to ensure proper receipt of payment, please submit a list of first and last names along with the employees' agency to the following address:
