Agreement to Mediate

Mediation is the process where parties involved in a dispute use the assistance of a mediator, serving as a neutral third party, to attempt to reach a mutually acceptable resolution. The mediator's role is to guide the mediation process, facilitate communication, and help the parties generate possible outcomes. A mediator does not act as a judge or render decisions. Responsibility for resolving the dispute rests with the parties.

In order for mediation to be successful, all parties need to abide by the following conditions. It is hereby agreed:

1. That both parties will enter into the mediation in good faith with the goal of reaching a satisfactory agreement.

2. That either party can withdraw from the mediation at any time.

3. That both parties provide full and accurate information during the mediation process.

4. That either party may request a brief recess at which time they may consult with legal counsel or other advisors. If an agreement is reached, either party may have legal counsel or other advisors review the agreement during the mediation. Due to time constraints, recesses will be limited to no more than 15 minutes. At the mediator's discretion, time may be extended as needed.

5. That both parties consider all communications in the mediation confidential and only provide information outside of these proceedings for the purpose of effectuating the terms of the agreement.

6. That information deemed confidential under Chapter 126, the State Human Resources Act, may be disclosed during the mediation process if the disclosure of that information is necessary and essential to upholding the integrity of the agency in the internal agency grievance process and is in the interest of an efficient and effective resolution of the employee grievance. The parties understand and agree that current employees who disclose outside of the mediation process confidential information obtained during mediation may be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including dismissal, and that former employees who disclose confidential information obtained during mediation may be disqualified from reinstatement or subject to disciplinary action upon reinstatement. The respondent is responsible for identifying to the grievant any information released that is deemed confidential.

7. That both parties agree to hold harmless the mediator for any decisions or agreements made during the course of the proceeding. Both parties agree not to involve and/or subpoena the mediator in any subsequent administrative or legal proceedings, unless so ordered by the court.

8. If an agreement is reached, the agreement shall be binding, subject to the approval of the Office of State Human Resources and/or any other state agency whose approval is necessary to implement the agreement, and provided the agreement does not contain any provision contrary to NC Human Resources Commission policies or rules, or applicable state or federal law.

I have read, understand, and accept the above conditions.
