

Lumber River STATE PARK

Lumber River State Park

2819 Princess Ann Rd.
Orrum, NC 28369

910-628-4564

lumber.river@ncparks.gov

GPS: 34.90023, -79.002220

Fun Facts

The park was established in 1989.

The upper section of the river was designated as a State Recreational Water Trail in 1978.

The lower section of the river was designated as a State Canoe Trail in 1984.

Originally, Lumber River was named Drowning Creek.

The name Lumber River was derived from the extensive timber harvesting and transporting done in the late 1700's.

It is one of the longest unobstructed rivers in North Carolina.

Eighty-one miles of the Lumber River are included in the National Wild and Scenic River system.

The park is headquartered in Princess Ann, the second town chartered in Robeson County.

Activities

Lumber River State Park is in the south-central portion of the coastal plains of North Carolina. It offers 115-miles of free flowing river for paddlers and fisherman to enjoy.

Experience the Park!

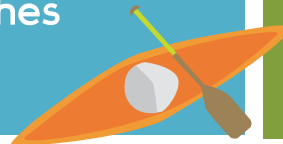

The river meanders through four North Carolina counties and is divided into recreational, scenic and natural sections.

One of few blackwater rivers
in North Carolina

115-miles of river
with 24 boat
launches

FAUNA

Wood stork

Mississippi kite

Swallow-tailed kite

Redbreast sunfish

Prothonotary warbler

Rafinesque
big-eared bat

River otter

Belted kingfisher

27
CAMPSITES

Plantlife consists of mountain laurel, spider
lily, swamp mallow,
Carolina bog mint,
dwarf iris, water elm

See the Park Map

ncparks.gov

